September marks the beginning. Strangers are brought together from different backgrounds to share in a learning experience. We find a chance to abandon barriers and still maintain our cultural pride. Respect strengthens our basis for understanding. Individual worth becomes more important than preconceived ideas.
 We learn how to cope, how to function and make use of the gradual giving and taking which binds our mutual efforts. Our perceptions remain individualistic, yet with application we can use the gift of communication to our benefit. For when people meet, opportunities for success become endless.

School Board Decisions Create Active Community Concern

As a result of several controversial decisions, the Fort Worth School Board is stepping into a more publicized role. This year marks the highest peak of public interest in recent years, with desegregation, busing, and school financing among the issues most frequently discussed. Describing the source of the accomplishments of the 1971 school year, The Reverend John Leatherbury, newly selected president of the board, emphasizes "cooperation of classroom teachers, administration, and board and great spirit in the school system."

Lower: Those serving on the Fort Worth School Board are Stan Harrell; Mrs. Jack O. Shannon, Jr.; Bill J. Elliott, vice-president; The Reverend John R. Leatherbury, president; Green B. Trimble, secretary; Jim Harris; Bobby Bruner. This group determines the policies followed by the Fort Worth Independent School District.

Left: Checking his desk calendar to find time for an appointment while he relaxes at his desk is principal Twain Morrow. Right: Mr. Morrow and Mrs. Joy Robertson, secretary and assistant registrar, admire a flower arrangement that brightens his office. Lower right: General office student assistant Beckie Lynn jots down a message from Mr. Morrow for one of the secretaries.

Mr. Morrow Values Improvements of His Second Year

Enjoying a second and smoother year with PHS is principal Twain Morrow. This year gave him the advantage of already being familiar with Paschalites, along with the corresponding advantage of having students familiar with him.

Mr. Morrow firmly believes that this year marks definite improvement for Paschal. Not only does this trend have root in his additional understanding of the faculty, office staff, student body, and general attitude and desires of the school, but it also arises from elevated spirit, reflecting a successful year athletically. Also helping this year run more smoothly is the familiarity with the extended day schedule and the independent study policy that were new to all last year and therefore necessitating a period of adjustment.

Describing his policy as including an active student voice in all matters, Mr. Morrow adds his intention of being "receptive to innovation but not necessarily insensitive to some tradition." His goal also includes "keeping the academic climate progressive" and meeting pupils individually.

Upper left: Welcoming African missionary, Mr. H. L. Maclin, with a friendly Paschal greeting is principal Twain Morrow. Mr. Maclin lectured to the student body on African civilization. Left: While demonstrating his musical ability, Mr. Morrow opens the day for PHS with the morning announcements. Right: Mr. Morrow and vice-principal Johnny Rumfield observe team effort and coordination by watching the Sherman football game.

Vice Principals Execute Duties With Diligence, Patience

Assisting Mr. Morrow in school organization and dealing directly with students are Paschal's three vice principals. Each keeps busy dealing with student activities, questions, and problems. Although their task is rather extensive with a school as large as Paschal, each vice principal offers no hesitation in labeling his position a rewarding challenge.

Working with Paschal for his first year is Mr. Johnny Rumfield. In charge of boys' discipline, textbook issuance, and attendance problems, Mr. Rumfield proves his capability.

Miss Merle Walker not only handles discipline problems with girls but also checks student eligibility for receiving awards and participating in activities that have a grade average limit. She is in charge of all program ticket sales and nominating Paschalites for city-wide awards. Certainly new and exciting for her this year was judging in the Miss Teenage Fort Worth Pageant poise and appearance competition.

With the large role of computers in education, Mr. Tom Maxwell has the complicated position of handling all computer work pertaining to Paschal. Working closely with counselors, Mr. Maxwell is in control of all scheduling, including the coordination of courses and schedule possibilities.

Right: Vice Principal Merle Walker shuffles through student information cards in her miniature filing cabinet in order to discover the most convenient time for an individual conference with one of Paschal's girls.

Paschal Serves as Illustration of Administrative Changes

Consistently following a program aimed at updating the educational system, the administrators of the Fort Worth Public Schools are introducing many modern procedures. Therefore, activities of the 1971-72 school year emphasize change. Nevertheless, school superintendent Julius Truelson stresses, "Change is not enough; it must be a change for the better."

Faculty and community aids exemplify only one form of change having a direct effect on Paschal. Other innovations result in the extensive remodeling of an upstairs wing for the mathematics Continuous Progress Program. Complying with the administration's policy of drug prevention are designated study units in health and biology. Paschal High School also serves as an example of successful blending of ethnic groups in cooperation with current desegregation programs.

Counseling Office Aids Pupils In Decision-Making

Although the most frequent service that counselors perform involves class schedule arrangements and proctoring the various tests that measure ability and educational development, counselors are available for many purposes. Students may discover answers to numerous questions concerning future plans for college and job by requesting counselor guidance.

As a result of interviews arranged through the counseling office, students have the opportunity to speak with college representatives about the institution of their choice. Not only must pupils depend upon representatives for information, but the counseling office provides them with an Admissions Search Kit. This up-to-date collection of college catalogues and university pamphlets offers many types of specific descriptions concerning room and board, tuition, fees, courses available, entrance requirements, and scholarships.

To supply Paschalites with many details about professions and skills, the counseling center includes a Counseling and Guidance Room open to students at any time. Occupational files describing nearly every possible kind of job with suggestions for educational needs are available in file cabinets along with booklets, publications, and catalogues.

Upper: Mr. Arthur Erwin, Paschal's freshman counselor, searches through his files with the assistance of Mrs. Helyne John, a general aid. Lower: Mr. Mickey Teems helps sophomore Diana Lemond with a schedule change at the beginning of school. The first few weeks of school are hectic ones for all of the counselors because during this time most Paschalites require schedule changes.

Lower left: While Scott Williams fills out his program of courses, sophomore Mike Young seeks advice concerning a schedule change from Mr. Herman Duncan. Office Staff Maintains Harmony With Additional Aids

Well known for its efficiency and cooperation is Paschal's office staff, in charge of all facets of school organization. This year, in order to give the general office staff as much time as necessary to deal directly with pupil problems and questions, three office aids help with office procedure and attendance work. Mrs. Claudie Colley, Mrs. Helyne John, and Mrs. Ruby Johnson are able to serve in the positions since study halls no longer exist. As a result of recent office remodeling in order to alleviate crowding, Paschal's registrar, Mrs. Eloise Donahey has her own office.

Included this year for the first time is Mr. Jack Bausley, community aid. Mr. Bausley is present to maintain security and order at PHS. Besides keeping general calmness, he supervises parking lots and counsels students with complaints. This aid is part of the school board's innovative desire to have a link between students and administrators.

Many New Acquisitions Increase Usefulness of Library

With the addition of various facilities, Paschal's library continues to uphold its outstanding reputation. Many new items, which are available to all students, aid in making the learning process a first hand experience. The library provides film, slide and carousel projectors, cassette recorders, foreign language materials and audio-visual aids.

Also new in the library this year is Mrs. Joyce Austin, head librarian. She and her cooperative assistant librarian, Mrs. Juanita Ingram, excel in maintaining proper organization. Especially typical of their ability to uphold order is the creation of the pass system. As a result, only those students who have teacher passes may enter the library. Although this system has provoked considerable opposition, it has accomplished its purpose of screening library admittance.

History Offers Black Studies, Contemporary Issues

In keeping with this year's theme of progressive education are the new courses and methods of the history department. Exemplary of this trend is the staff teaching system incorporated in the world history program. Individual teachers make separate presentations to all world history classes. A multi-text system provides a variety of sources, requiring an extensive amount of independent study from each student.

Contemporary Issues, available this year for the first time, aims at informing students of current happenings and problems of the world. Each student arrives at an individual opinion after participating in thought-provoking discussion, hearing speakers, and analyzing various publications.

Starting at mid-term, Black Studies offers a complete history of the role of the black people in American society. This course shows how native-land influences have affected Afro-American culture. Through combined efforts of several teachers, this class investigates art, music, and language.

English Innovations Highlight Course Variation

Attempting to give students a well-rounded, strong English foundation, Paschal's English department concentrates on modern teaching techniques and variety. Pupils studying American literature have the choice of supplementing it with simultaneous American history in an innovative course that lasts two hours daily. Mrs. Marjory Philp and Mrs. Lee Lorber teach the class in a double room, with students receiving high school credits in both English and history. Students concerned with developing the ability to express themselves originally and creatively may take a class in creative writing taught by Miss Paula Eyrich. To circulate examples of student ingenuity through individual expression, this class publishes Paschal's literary magazine, VIGNETTE.

New this year is a team teaching program in senior English instructed by Mrs. Nora McGaugh, Mrs. Betty Moore and Mrs. Sue Smith. Using the large auditorium for a learning laboratory, one teacher lectures to all three classes, enabling the other two teachers to do research and planning on other topics. Since the teachers have to prepare one topic rather than three, each may spend more time in preparation, assuring the pupils of a well-formulated college background.

New Audio-Visual Tape Recorder Adds Quality to Plays

Aiding public speaking teachers in making students aware of their dramatic talents as well as faults is the new audio-visual tape recorder. Operated by student assistants, the machine records and films, replaying both the picture and the sound with the use of a television screen. The drama classes take advantage of the recorder by making a copy of their plays, allowing drama pupils to see themselves as an audience does. After criticizing their own techniques, students learn how to improve several acting flaws. It also gives Mrs. Miriam Todd the chance to observe the plays since she normally remains backstage during all speech productions.

Using money raised by last year's productions to air-condition the small auditorium, drama students enjoy performing in comfort. One-act plays that the students produced in the fall included "Yes Means No" and "Anybody and Anybody Else", intermixed with skits by Jules Pfeiffer. Fulfilling a lifetime dream of Mrs. Todd was the spring production of the play, "Barretts of Wimpole Street". This being her last year, she was determined to direct the play she always considered a production goal. Also a pleasure was producing the play in the small auditorium, a theater she originally organized.

Language Department Additions Inspire Cultural Awareness

Emphasis on switching from grammar to culture provides the basis for the innovations instituted by this year's foreign language department. Not only do students study language structure but also they have the opportunity to participate in the actual customs and rituals of each country.

Among the new facilities are a Center of Language Culture, a teacher-pupil conference area, and additions to the language laboratories. The language center offers the students a chance to experience foreign ways of life through the use of reference books and novels, film strips, records, and tapes. Vividly colored partitions designate an area for individual confrontations. New tapes, projectors and tape recorders complete the list of materials acquired this year.

A partial team teaching system with two native aids offers Paschalites a unique opportunity to combine the advantages of progressive education with first hand knowledge.

Lab Work, Drug Education Join Traditional Notetaking

In order to endow students with applicable laboratory skills for more advanced science courses, the major portion of physical science emphasizes active lab work. Ninth graders enjoy Paschal's advanced lab apparatus, much of which has just arrived this year. The science department profits from new radiation detectors and modern electric equipment.

Recently available to the chemistry department are new books and new lab manuals. Following the lab-oriented program of physical science, chemistry concentrates on technical, more complicated, college level laboratory experiments.

Progressive education results in the formation of a unit on drug education for all first year biology classes. A comprehensive and organized study that must last at least a week, drug education takes advantage of film strips and records to lead into active student discussion and reasoning.

Mathematics Department Begins Continuous Progress Program

Exemplifying the many new programs and opportunities available to Paschalites this year is the Continuous Progress Program in ninth grade mathematics. A progressive addition, this procedure offers the opportunity for the student to move at a comfortable, individual rate of speed, with extra resources available for further knowledge and research.

To some extent based on an independent study policy, Continuous Progress provides tests upon pupil request. Students who receive A's or B's move ahead, those who make C's are given the option to move ahead or to take an additional test, and the ones that make D's or F's must repeat the test. Only after one completes required work may he obtain credit.

In order to make the Continuous Progress Program more advanced and conducive to study, several supplements are available. Each student may use filmstrips, programmed materials, various textbooks, teacher prepared materials and tapes whenever necessary. Recent remodeling also serves to provide a more comfortable and relaxed atmosphere. Spacious, carpeted work areas, available for individual or group study, successfully replace the more restrictive individual rooms.

Left: Mrs. Jo Cummins, a teacher in the Continuous Progress Program, gives Debbie Garcia pointers as Dale Patton listens from a distance. Ninth graders worked in the midst of construction as remodeling took place.

Wide Variety of Business Skills Prepares Students for Jobs

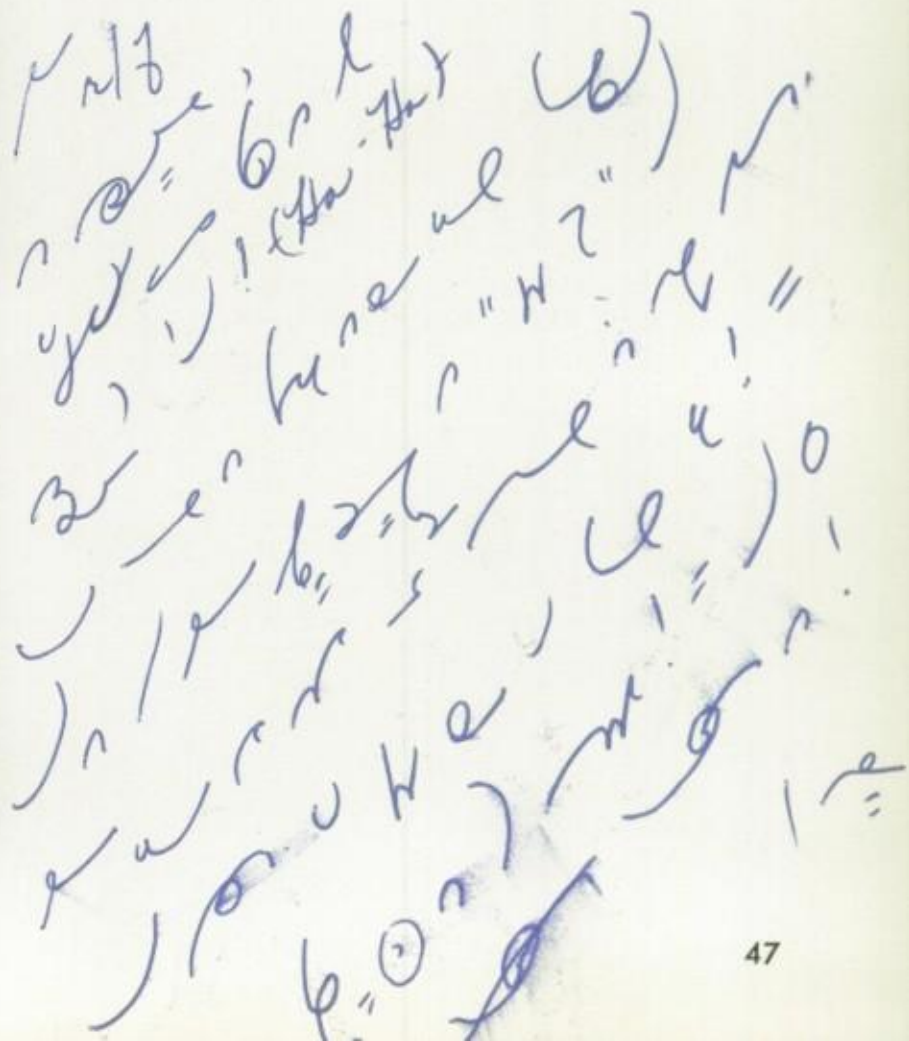

Many opportunities to learn practical skills make PHS a vocational school as well as an academic school. Business Organization offers students an introduction to the business world on an advanced level. Available to qualified pupils, this new program defines business with speakers, field trips, and a variety of texts which illustrate business techniques.

Notehand, a simplified form of shorthand, gives students not only a head start in secretarial skills but also an advantage in college notetaking. This one-half credit course is available exclusively to seniors and lasts one semester.

Different teaching approaches throughout the business department provide a new variety this year. Many beginning typewriting students now have the experience of learning on IBM Selectric typewriters. A partial team teaching arrangement between Mrs. LaTonne Enright and Mrs. Jane King accompanies the methods characteristic of progressive education.

Art Students Seek Originality, Abstract Expression

Attempting to inspire creativity and individual expression is the goal of this year's art department. In contrast to the traditional landscape and still life, the art room displays evidence of an increasing interest in the abstract. Present to help stimulate the imaginative are background music, flashing lights, bright murals and interpretive mobiles.

Among the projects that students may undertake are the study of basic design, printmaking, jewelry making, macrame and sculpture which emphasizes time and light. The teachers encourage students to use mediums ranging from pinto beans to bearskin rugs in order to arrive at total originality.

Especially representative of this abstract trend is a most creative endeavor, a five week environmental sculpture project. Students express their ingenuity through the individual creation of various exhibitions. Using different bases and materials, each student designs his impression of an environment. After arranging the projects in a tunnel that meanders about the art room, barefoot students crawl through areas of artificial jungles, caves, deserts, igloos and other interpretations of life using lights and textures.

Music Department Offers Pupils Travel, Recognition

Certainly one of Paschal's most advanced departments is the music department, a program that offers students the opportunity to gain performable talents, travel extensively, and benefit from association with others both in Paschal and in competition. Resulting from the success and awards won each year, Paschal's program of musical development receives considerable honor and recognition throughout the country.

In order to raise money for a spring trip and perform for schools outside of Fort Worth, the chorus and orchestra opened the year selling combs and candy. After this profitable endeavor, six orchestra students and five chorus students reached the finals level following their participation in All-State competitions. To help students place highly in these competitions is a new set of sight-reading materials.

Newest to the band this year is Mr. David Tucker, band director. Throughout the year, Mr. Tucker has led the band in various successful competitions. In the first semester, the marching band received one first division award and two second division awards in city-wide marching contests. The band later traveled to participate in contests in Texas and Louisiana and a national band competition in Enid, Oklahoma.

Homemaking Advocates Practical Preparation for Future

Emphasizing the advantages of understanding fundamental household skills is the basis for this year's homemaking curriculum. Students not only have a chance to observe housing principles but also to probe deeper into their capabilities. After analyzing current trends in interior design, fashions and cooking and even modern budgeting, the students arrange their findings and arrive at logical and useful conclusions.

Definitely useful to all future homemakers is the cooking segment of Paschal's homemaking department. Accenting a study of diet requirements and meal planning, the teachers stress the addition of originality to the daily conventions.

Field trips add a special dimension to the homemaking department by allowing students to observe various skills as performed in the commercial world. In order to view current interior decorating trends, pupils examine the methods of design used by Ellison-Obid. Also surveyed are available housing in Fort Worth, followed by a cost and quality comparison with similar suburban areas of the United States.

Industrial Arts Program Offers Glimpse Into Industry

Representing the trend to give students practical, applicable skills as well as basic scholastic insight during high school is the industrial arts department. This year, Paschal's industrial arts program added two teachers, T. C. Thomas and Jim Jenkins, plus a new class of power mechanics, a new class of metal working, a new class in drafting and two new classes in wood-working. This breakdown illustrates that more students are interested in learning a variety of skills. Moreover, this year not only boys are enrolled but there are also ten girls receiving credit in power mechanics.

Familiarizing students with the machinery and methods used in industry is the purpose of Paschal's advanced power mechanics program. Each year, up-to-date mechanisms are available to insure modern technique. New equipment includes an impact wrench, a metal presser, a brake, machines to analyze and wash engine parts and machines to work with several assorted metals.

Physical Education Emphasizes Individual Progress

Concentration on physical development and fitness describes the aim of this year's athletic department. Students of physical education not only have the opportunity to play outside or in the gym, but they may also utilize a modern, well-equipped weight room. Besides adding twelve new exercising machines, coaches have also included tennis and ping pong in the daily program available to Paschal's students.

Paschal's physical education department, along with the departments of four other schools, is participating in a survey for the Fort Worth Public Schools. The program gives administrators the chance to observe the physical progress of the students from the beginning until the end of the year. After carefully eliminating those students that are unable to participate due to improper health, coaches test each boy for his durability under various exercises. While some high schools follow a rigid program and give these tests daily, Paschal's role involves only the giving of the tests once at the beginning of the school year and once at its conclusion.

Teaching Innovations Spotlight Teenage Communication

In addition to previous teaching procedures, girls physical education and health instructors concentrate on blending in current techniques. Students of girls physical education not only participate in volleyball tournaments, intramurals, and competitive tennis, but also may take a class in modern Afro-American dance taught by Mrs. Geraldine Moore.

Giving Paschal's girls a basic knowledge of health is not the only purpose of the health classes. Instead of using the designated text as the only teaching facility, teachers encourage active student discussion of everyday problems so that the pupils can find answers with the help of other opinions.

Vocational Training Programs Encourage Responsibility

Representative of Paschal's recent desire to train its students with practical and valuable skills is the vocational training program. This system offers Paschalites the unique opportunity to gain experience and earn money while still in high school. The students arrive at a clear understanding of the working world by learning basic theory in the classroom and then applying the principles on the job.

After hearing speakers from the Federal Department of Labor and the Central Labor Council, students participating in the Home Economics Co-op apply their understanding of labor unions, wages, and hours as salaried employees. Distributive Education students gain experience in retail stores while those of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America serve as aids and technicians in hospitals and doctors' offices.

New this year is the Child Development program. The participants serve three hours each day as non-paid teacher assistants in the elementary schools in the vicinity of PHS.

Student Assistants Carry Out Many Important Duties

Not only may students find work off campus through the vocational programs, but they may also serve their school as student assistants. This year, for the first time, these assistants receive one half credit toward their graduation as well as the gratification of serving Paschal. Unfortunately, the activities of these assistants often appear to go unnoticed and unappreciated, but they are certainly vital to PHS.

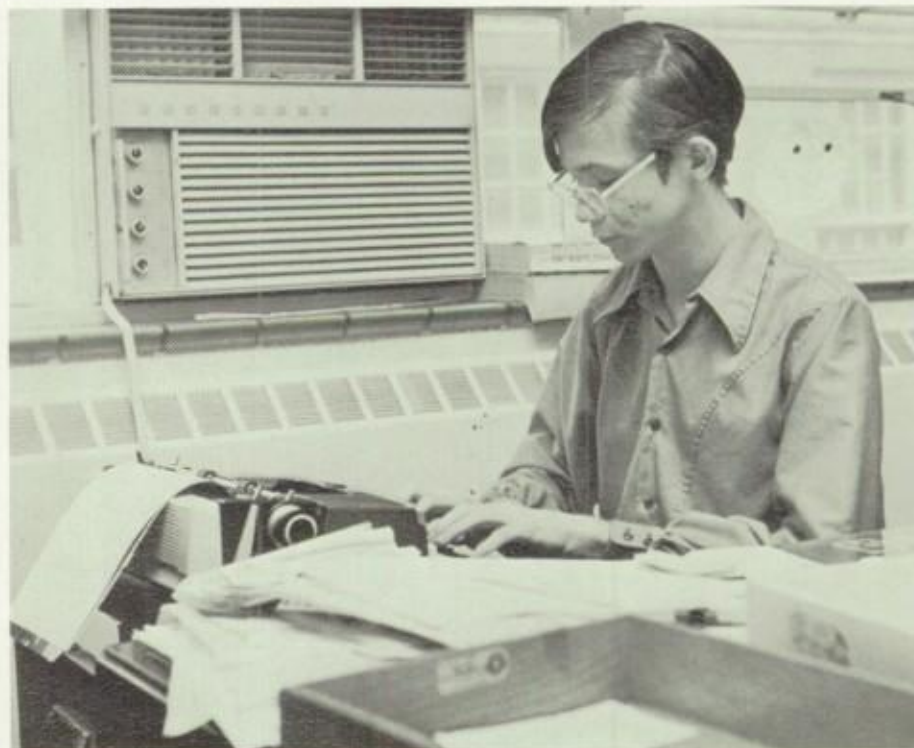

Many jobs are available to those interested, and there is always a position open to any student who wishes to help. In many cases, students gain experience which will be useful to them in their upcoming vocations. These assistant posts are available in the general office, the nurse's office, the attendance office, the counselors' office, the library, and the annex office. Pupils may also serve as individual teacher assistants, which incorporates a variety of extra duties.

Cafeteria Workers, Custodians, Maids Contribute Services

In order to maintain the proper environment for study, Paschal's staff of custodians and maids aims at neatness and organization. Because of a cut in the budget, this year's staff is operating with fewer people, earning even greater admiration for their harder work. Added duties result from the remodeling taking place at PHS. While the day staff operates with three maids, four custodians, and one yard man, a second staff of seven works from after school until 12:00.

Also serving the school are the seventeen cafeteria workers who concentrate on nutrition and sanitation. Although the cafeteria staff attempts to offer a greater variety of foods and dishes, the ladies notice that most students prefer the same traditional items, with the greatest emphasis on fried chicken, mashed potatoes, and rolls. As well as preparing meals each school day, cafeteria workers also cater several banquets. This year, Paschal is conducting two city-wide in-service training workshops to keep school cafeterias aware of the most current trends. A supervisor and a director from the administration building lead the workshop here for all Fort Worth Public School District cafeteria managers.

In Memoriam

Mr. Claude Caldwell

1934-1972

What though the radiance which was once so bright
Be now forever taken from my sight,
Though nothing can bring back the hour
Of splendor in the grass, of glory in the flower;
We will grieve not, rather find
Strength in what remains behind;
In the primal sympathy
Which having been must ever be;
In the soothing thoughts that spring
Out of human suffering;
In the faith that looks through death,
In years that bring the philosophic mind.

Faculty Receives Final Touches with Additional Teachers

As one can expect of a teaching staff as large as Paschal's, there are the usual mid-term replacements. Although the students regret losing teachers, they welcome those who are new this spring semester. Mr. Charlie Turner retired as basketball coach and assumed the duties of Mrs. Lenore Hurley, history teacher, who went to Arlington Heights. Filling Mr. Turner's coaching position was Mr. Jim Wall. In the English department, Mrs. Sylvia Williams replaced Mrs. Jerina Barnes, while Mrs. Mary Ann Harris filled in for Mrs. Mary Ann Scallan. A former Miss Throckmorton and Miss Wool, Miss Marsha Shaver, took over for Mrs. Nancy Hickman in the vocational program. Mr. William Brazzil, a former professor at the University of Texas at Arlington and the fifth new teacher, replaced biology teacher Mrs. Georgia Dickerson. Finally, due to Mr. Claude Caldwell's tragic and unexpected death, Mr. Ramon Vega became a member of the history department.

Upper: New teachers receive instruction from Vice Principal Tom Maxwell in the teachers' workroom concerning the operation of another new feature at Paschal, a Xerox machine. Confusion, Heat Mark Beginning of New School Year Crowded halls, lost freshmen, and long lines at the counselor's office brought Paschal students to the realization that the 1971-72 school year had started. Freshmen came on the Friday before to get their schedules and become better acquainted with their new surroundings. Over three thousand students and many new teachers endured the almost stifling heat that is common for a Texas summer. Already students began saying, "Only nine months until summer."

Howdy Week Activities Acquaint Newcomers with Paschal

Booths set up in the front foyer and a "Howdy Hop" were the most visible aspects of the friendly atmosphere at Paschal as the new school year got under way. Each of Paschal's many organizations set up a booth which explained its purposes and activities so that newcomers could learn about the clubs and become more familiar with the school.

Howdy Week, September 7-10, came after a hectic first week of school. During Howdy Week, emphasis was placed on taking time out to get to know the school and other students better. A "Howdy Hop" held Friday afternoon after the Howdy Week pep rally was the climax of the week's events. The Leadership Committee sponsored the get-together which gave students a chance to talk and listen to music.

Sherman Game Takes Paschalites Out of Town

Numerous cars and five busloads of Paschalites journeyed to Sherman this year to cheer the Panthers on to a 13-13 tie with the Sherman Bearcats. Most of the fans took sack lunches, and those who didn't regretted it. Rain prevailed during the greater part of the game, but this did little to dampen the purple-and-white spirits. On the return trip buses rang with chants of "You're not a Panther?" and, of course, the ever present fight song. Even with the weekend to recuperate, many fans returned to school on Monday without their voices after such a spirited football game.

Feverish Spirit at Pep Rallies Encourages Teams to Win

Pep rallies fired the spirit to greater heights than ever this year. Win or lose, Paschal students enthusiastically gave support to the Panthers, Varsity, "B," and ninth.

The cheerleaders took charge of the assemblies, encouraging spirit in the audience. Leading the chants and yells were John Herrick; Alesia Childress, Teresa Gallagher, Amy Brown, Carolyn Robertson, Carlos Ruiz, Richard Sitton, and Richard Zavala with alternates Marty Strayhorn and Diane Jones helping the others out by filling in when they tired.

Supporting the cheerleaders in the audience were two spirit groups, PAWS and PSOP. These groups encouraged the crowd to participate and demonstrate their Panther spirit.

For the third straight year the cheerleaders presented Paschalites with a red, white and blue stick. This "spirit stick" exemplified the feelings towards the team this year.

Decorations, Pep Rally Greet Returning Exes

Exes returning to Paschal for the Homecoming celebrations found that the spirit was better than ever before. A committee of exes served as judges for the decorations in the homerooms and halls. Decorations were especially clever and original this year since the game with Carter-Riverside had never been selected for homecoming before.

Enthusiasm was feverish all day long, but particularly during the pep rally, which was held immediately following a meeting of the Ex-Students Association so that members could attend. Mr. John Brusche, president of the Association, announced that members of the Association had chosen Vickie Brigman to be Homecoming Queen with Janice Eittreim, Carolyn Jones, Rhonda Phillips, Carolyn Robertson, and Jan Wurtz serving as her court at the dance following the game.

Victory Dance Follows Exciting Homecoming Game

Initiating a new Homecoming tradition, the Panthers defeated the Carter Eagles. The combination of a winning game and a Homecoming Night overwhelmed the crowd of Paschalites. Fans were tense until the final minutes of playing time when the Panthers surged ahead to assure victory.

With a sense of pride students and exes headed for the victory dance held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel, where they danced to the music of Huntington Lane. The finalists for Homecoming Queen were formally escorted to the front of the ballroom, where Vickie Brigman was proclaimed Queen in a short ceremony. She received red roses as a small token of the honor that had been bestowed on her.

Paschalites Collect Recyclable Paper During Drive

During October and November, ecology-minded students throughout Tarrant County gave up their Saturday mornings to work on the county-wide "paper drive." Paschal students contributed 152,000 of the total 2,352,979 pounds of newspapers and magazines collected by the thirty-five participating schools. When the paper was sold to be recycled, students gave $6,733 to the Streams and Valleys Committee to buy one hundred trees to plant along the Trinity River.

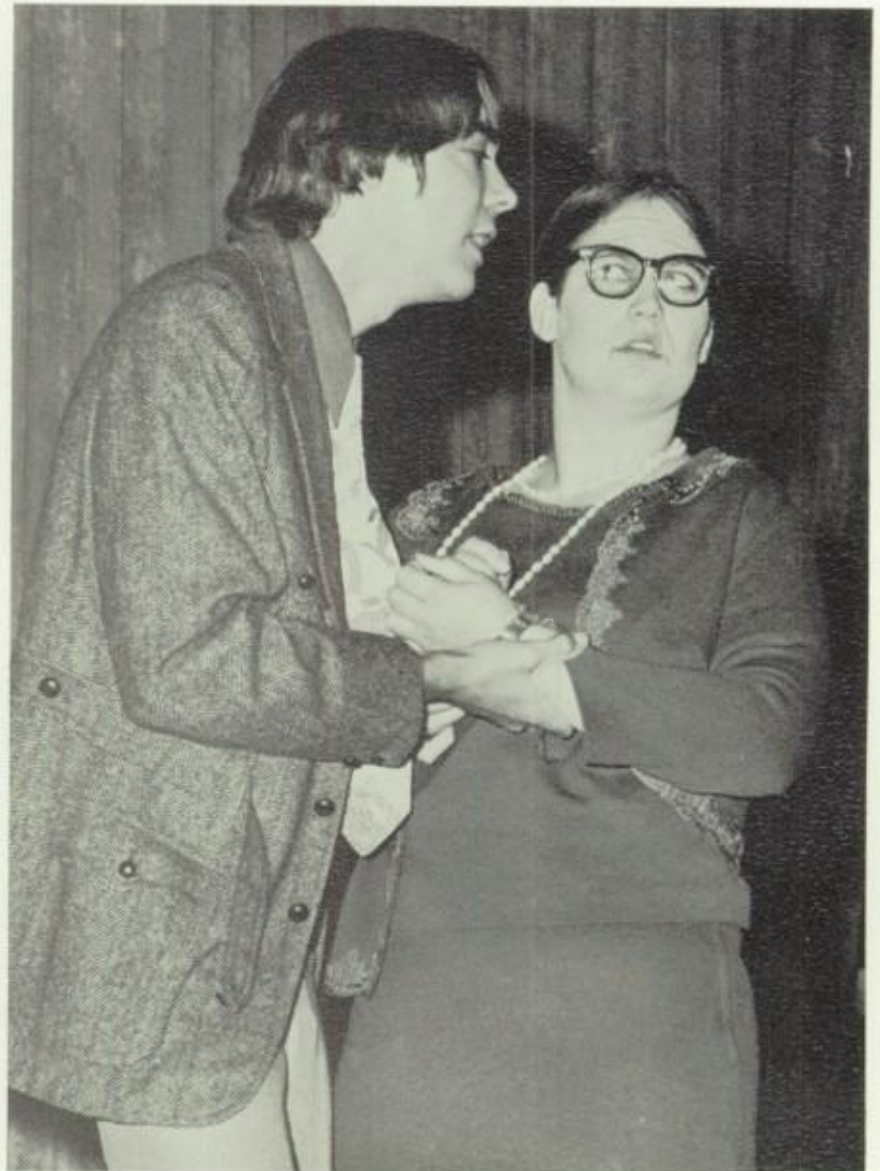

Vagabonds Present Play, Skits, Scenes in Program

Skits by Jules Pfeiffer, scenes from "Anybody and Anybody Else" by William Saroyan and Howard Emmett Rogers' one-act play, "Yes Means No," brought life to the stage. The second period production was the fall presentation of the Vagabond Players. The drama students presented the program on Thursday morning, December 2, in the large auditorium.

Sheree Andrews, Mike Boyd, Mike Goggans, Robin Neely and Stan Yeatts starred in Rogers' comedy. The one-act was about a father trying to teach his son the value of money before he got married. Unusual circumstances followed in which the son came very close to losing his girl friend.

The two characters, James Maynard and Mark Walker, in the scenes from "Anybody and Anybody Else" dealt with more serious aspects of life. In contrast, various students in Mrs. Todd's drama classes provided the audience with a bit of humor during the pauses between the longer productions.

Sports Follies Gives Chance to Display Talent

"Sports" was the theme of the 1971 Sports Follies. The program is produced to make money to finance all Paschal sports. Talents in the show were diversified. Participants did modern dances, others sang, still others clowned around. Miss Roberson's rhythm classes presented three line dances, and annual staffers two-stepped to "Baby Elephant Walk." Geraldine provided comic relief for the audience after senior girls saluted all sports, coaches, and athletes in their traditional line dance. Adults in the audience enjoyed watching senior boys and girls dance to the well-remembered jitterbug.

At the end of the program Sports Follies Queen nominees were presented with their escorts. Each sport chose a girl to represent them. Then the student body elected their queen. This year's Sports Follies Queen was Patty May, escorted by Don Murray and representing the tennis players.

Spirit of Christmas Enlivens Week Before Vacation

Despite unseasonably warm weather, the holiday spirit prevailed at Paschal during the week before the Christmas vacation. Tuesday afternoon, the orchestra and the freshman, girls' and mixed choruses helped to set the holiday mood with a program of Christmas and Chanukah music. Later in the week, the mixed chorus went caroling down the halls. The Leadership Committee decorated a Christmas tree for the front foyer while other organizations also made decorations. Midterm Brings Seasonal Flurry of Activity

Midterm brought its usual flurry of activities to Paschal. Students studied late for the often terrifying midterm final exams. Some lucky seniors graduated then, but the rest of the school scurried to the counsellors' offices to get necessary schedule changes arranged. Finally, after the last tests had been graded and the final schedule changes approved, the survivors settled down to the tedious task of filling out the inevitable seven schedule cards.

Voter Registration Encourages Involvement of Youth

In an effort to stimulate interest in government, the Student Council sponsored a drive to enfranchise students of Paschal who had turned eighteen. Four seniors, Tom Harter, Greg Johnson, Reisa Kahn, and Kris Slover went to the County Courthouse along with their sponsor Mr. Hamilton to be sworn in as deputies. These five people then held the authority to register eligible people to vote. The Student Council set up a booth in the large cafeteria and assisted students in filling out the voter registration cards. In sponsoring the drive, the Student Council hoped to encourage eighteen year olds to exercise their voting privilege.

Beards, Western Dress Appear Through Cowtown Influence

When the Rodeo comes to Fort Worth, the spirit also inevitably comes to Paschal. Although Ranch Day was not an official function this year, it managed to survive because of a few students concerned about preserving the tradition.

The main attraction was the annual beard growing contest sponsored by the Leadership Committee. Awards went to Buddy Moses for the longest beard, Laurence Oliver for the fullest beard and Tommy Hulme as the youngest beard grower. For the first time, teachers joined in the fun and competed as a separate class, adding a new twist to the competition.

Coats, Skirts, Hair Styles Reflect Current Fads

Fashion and function shared top billing with most Paschal students. Corduroy and plaid wool coats together with pull-over sweaters typified the warm and casual look that boys preferred. With hair codes a thing of the past, many adopted longer hair styles, some reaching shoulder-length.

Girls, on the other hand, affected shorter hair styles with the layered shag as an alternative for the straighter styles of yesterday. Skirt lengths varied from midi and maxi to mini, and pants took on new looks with knickers and hot pants sharing the stage with the traditional jeans look.

Special Places Attract Panthers After School Hours

School does not take up all the time of Paschal students. During their free time students enjoy meeting each other, whether it be to share ideas, have fun, or eat a hamburger. The places Paschalites haunt reflect the diverse interests of the students. However, they all have a common interest--communicating friendship by simply being together.

Texas Independence Day Program Enlightens Students

Paschal celebrated Texas Independence Day this year in a totally new manner. Students from Mr. Everett's español acelerado class gave a Chicano view of Texas' independence.

Henry Castillo from the Dallas Community Action Agency emceed the program. The students presented two skits. The first showed Chicano stereotypes, bringing out the fact that these stereotypes are not representative of all Chicanos. The second skit depicted an anonymous classroom in which the teacher mispronounced Spanish names and rejected a student's information revealing that some of the heroes of the Alamo were Mexicans who sacrificed their lives for Texas.

The remainder of the program was devoted to singing and dancing. Students performed a Mexican folk dance, "La Botella," and accompanied by guitar, then sang two traditional Mexican folk ballads, "La Cigarra" and "El Camote."

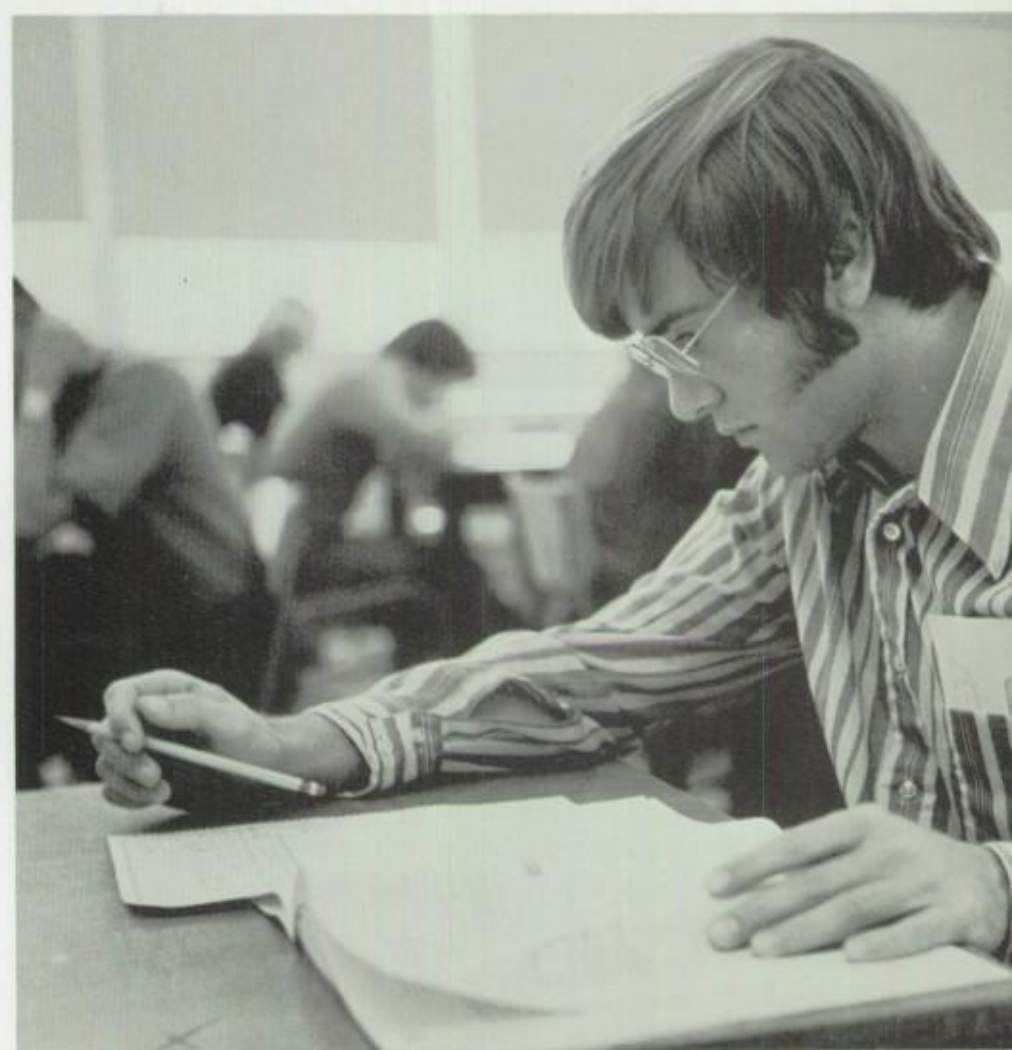

In doing the program the students hoped to show others that they are proud of being Americans, but at the same time they are also proud of their rich Mexican heritage.

General Activities Complete Learning Experiences

Each year Paschalites participate in a wide variety of non-academic activities. Some of these, such as purchasing senior rings and ordering graduation announcements, are limited to students of a single class. Pre-registration for the upcoming school year and related activities tend to be more or less universal. In general, the student body looks forward to any such activity to escape from the boredom of the everyday schedule. Out-of-town trips are always popular for the fun they combine with the intended education. Perhaps the most awaited day is the one day a year that it snows. Inevitably every student tries his hardest on that day to get out early, if only to throw just one snowball at a friend.

Parents Visit Schools During Public Schools' Week

Public Schools' Week traditionally gives parents and other interested community people an opportunity to find out for themselves what is going on in today's schools. Many classes set up special exhibitions and bulletin boards to illustrate the topics that they have studied throughout the year. These projects helped explain new techniques in education to visitors who came during the week of March 6-12.

Tuesday night, March 7, was Open House. Parents were invited to come to see the school and to meet and talk to teachers and administrators during the informal gathering.

Programs Broaden Dimensions of School Life

Special programs are welcome breaks in the monotony of routine daily activities. This year, a number of special assemblies were presented in an attempt to enrich the learning experience. Student organizations presented some of the programs, such as the one honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Mephibosheth, the Tulanians, the Army Band from Fort Wolters, the Big Thicket Association and other groups from outside the school offered educational programs.

Vagabonds Transport Friends to Mid-Victorian Era

On March 9, Mrs. Todd and the Vagabond Players held a mid-Victorian tea in conjunction with their presentation of Rudolph Bessier's play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." The English tea transported participants back to the days of romanticism and Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning.

Mrs. Todd and members of the Vagabonds were dressed in authentic period costumes as they mingled with guests at the tea. They served a typical English tea, complete with spiced tea, scones and fresh strawberries and coddled cream.

Ex-Vagabonds, friends of Mrs. Todd and the Vagabonds, teachers, administrators and representatives of Paschal's organizations attended the tea which publicized Mrs. Todd's last Vagabonds production, as she retires after this year.

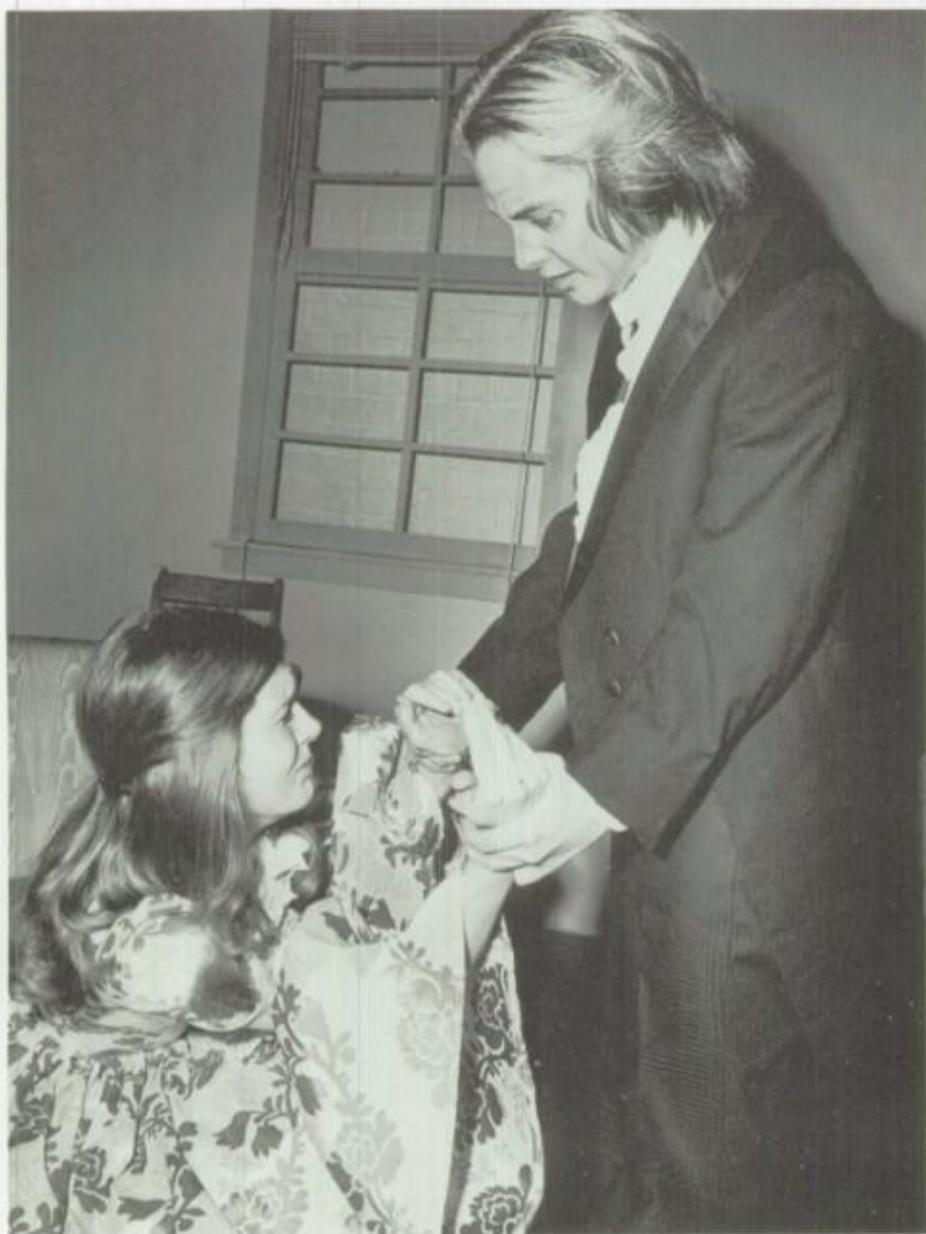

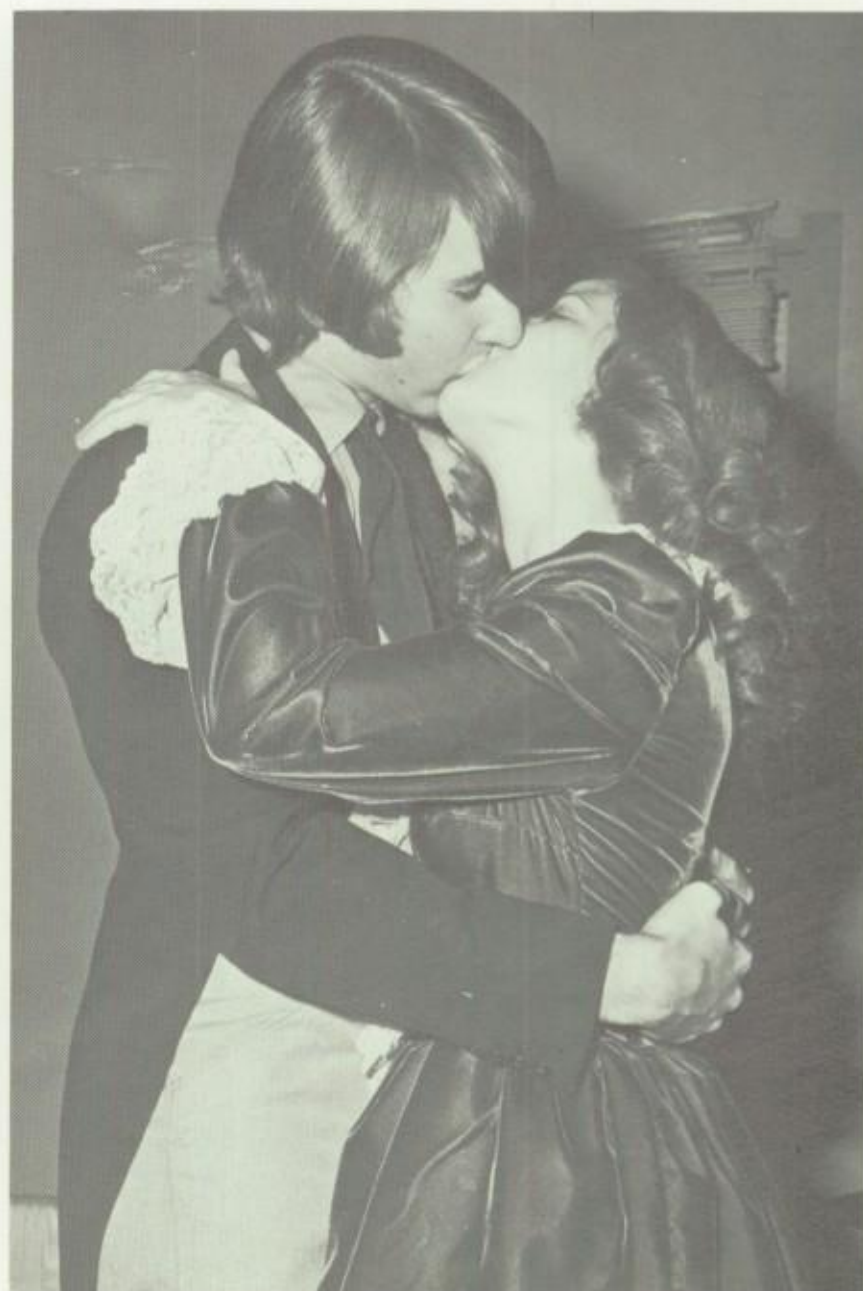

Upper left: Mrs. Linda Goodlett, one of the teachers who assisted by pouring tea, pauses to chat with Mrs. Todd. Lower left: Mrs. Ronnie Walker, Mrs. J. W. Vagabonds Recreate Brownings' Romance

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" came to life on the stage of Paschal's Little Theatre during the week March 13-17. The Vagabond Players, presentation of the period piece was historically accurate. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights three separate casts performed in Rudolph Bessier's story of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. Thursday and Friday nights an "all-star" cast, composed of the best actor in each role from the preceding nights, performed. All in all, Mrs. Todd's final production at Paschal proved to be one that will be long remembered by those who attended.

Chicanos Sell Tostados To Pay For Trip To Monterrey

In order to make money for their trip to Monterrey, the students of Mr. Evertt's fifth period class sold tostados during the three lunch periods. The booth was set up in the courtyard located in the center of the campus. This business venture was an obvious success, as could be easily seen by the long lines; however, it was worth the wait.

During the Easter vacation, some of the students had planned to go to Monterrey, Mexico to take in the sights of a modern industrial Mexican city. The money earned went to defray the students' expenses, as did the hundred dollars donated by Mrs. Todd and members of the Vagabond Players.

Upper: Sylvia Villafranca, Rebecca Anguiano, Yvonne Blanco, Richard Gonzalez, Maria Anguiano, and John Blanco look over a catalogue of Monterrey in anticipation of their Easter trip to Mexico. Lower right: Ricky Blackwood and Mike Page pick up napkins and all the other trimmings from Johnny Jaso and Joe Gomez.

Good Food, Entertainment Lure People to Spaghetti Supper

Each year the Paschal band sponsors a spaghetti supper to earn money for its out-of-town trips. Mothers of band members cooked the meal, which was served in the large cafeteria. The menu included the main course of spaghetti, supplemented with garlic bread, tossed salad, a choice of iced tea or coffee, and a selection of cakes for dessert. Two of the three stage bands offered entertainment for the evening, playing the best of their repertoire. The supper proved to be a tremendous success, as over seven hundred people attended. Profits from this supper were used to finance the band's planned trip to Oklahoma later in the year.

All Sports Banquet Recognizes Outstanding Athletes

In his speech at the All Sports Banquet, Coach Gerard Boudreaux spoke on the privilege of being an athlete. In the banquet room, of the University Christian Church, the TCU offensive coach elaborated on the honor of representing one's school in athletic competition. Dr. John Newport, Jr. acted as master of ceremonies at the February 29th affair honoring both athletes and coaches. One highlight of the banquet was the presentation of the sweethearts who had been chosen to represent each of the athletic teams at Paschal.

Student Government Enlarges to Gain a Broader Perspective

Along with the increasing awareness of minority cultures, the Leadership Committee has initiated the Black and Chicano Task Forces. The purpose of these two groups is to provide an effective outlet for minority students and to act as an advisory board for the other branches of student government. The volunteers met often while working on special projects. The Blacks commemorated the anniversary of the death of Dr. Martin Luther King with a special assembly and the Chicanos produced the Texas Independence Day assembly.

An older part of student government, the United High School Council, has also been active this year. Major issues concerned the rights of married students as well as junior off-campus lunch. The council was also instrumental in organizing the paper drive in Fort Worth junior high and high schools.

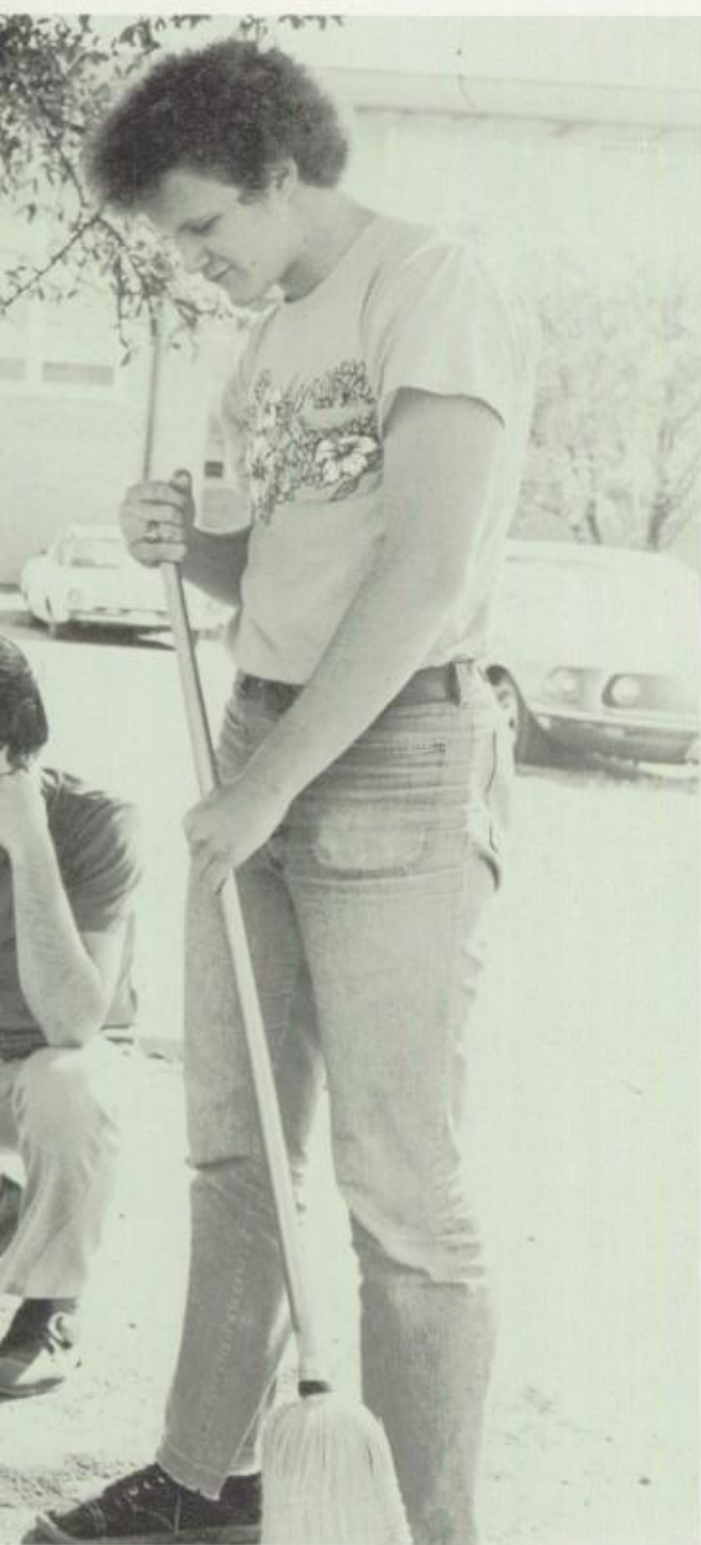

Leadership Committee Reviews, Passes on Student Proposals

The governing body of Paschal High School is headed by the Leadership Committee. All members with the exception of ninth graders are elected in the spring preceding their year of service. The new addition of freshmen was agreed upon by the entire student body in a referendum last December. Elections were conducted in January of this year.

The Committee acts to plan assemblies and Student Council activities. Members organized the November paper drive, student directory sales and the voter registration campaign. In these and other student service and community projects, the Leadership Committee has continued dedication to Paschal. The bi-weekly fourth period meetings are directed by President John Newport under sponsorship of Mr. John Hamilton.

Student Council Representatives Perform Many, Varied Duties

Paschal's largest organization began another year of proposals and suggestions as the Student Council got under way. At the beginning of the school year, each homeroom elects a representative to serve as their voice in government. The first meeting brought together the Leadership Committee and members of the Student Council for the election of officers. The Leadership Committee presides over the Student Council and provides an open ear for Paschal students. Their joint meetings are held once a month.

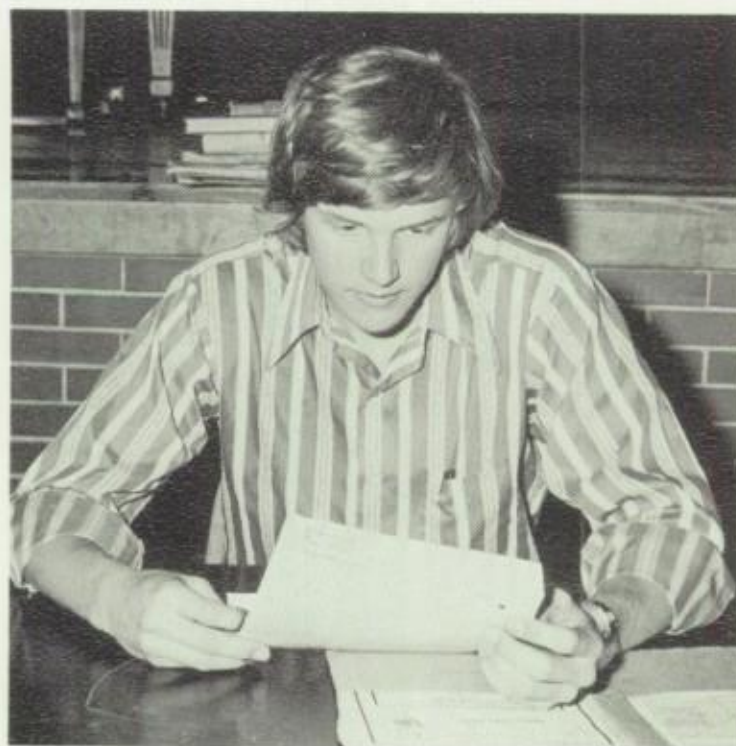

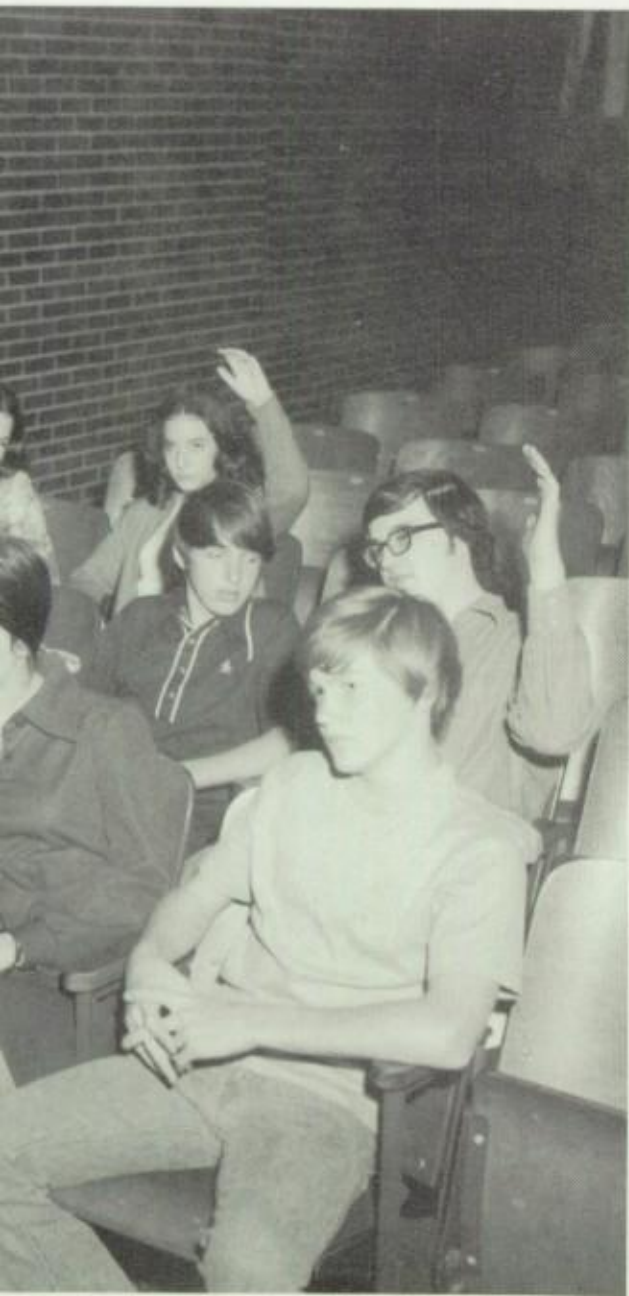

To begin the year, Student Council members worked on the paper drive campaign and began to organize information for the student directory. Proposals were put before the students concerning impeachment proceedings and grade and citizenship requirements for Leadership Committee members. A few of the issues passed were election of ninth grade Leadership Committee members and the expense of repainting the lines in the newly surveyed north student parking lot.

Top Students Earn Membership in National Honor Societies

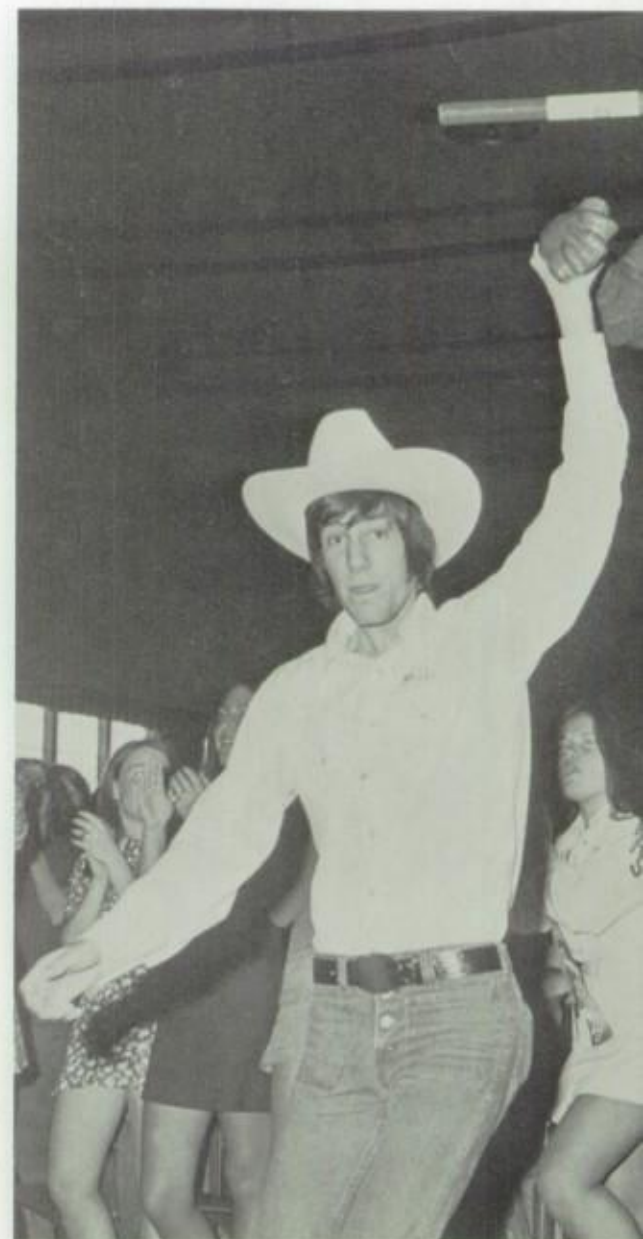

Students with outstanding scholastic records form Paschal's National Honor Society, and a new organization, the Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica, or Spanish Honor Society. The National Honor Society accepts the top fifteen per cent of the senior class, basing its requirements on the junior year grade point averages. The SHH accepts juniors and seniors in the upper level Spanish classes at mid-term, requiring straight A's in all Spanish classes during high school.

The NHS had its first meeting in late March, when sponsor Mr. Robert Bennett called for an election of officers. Plans were made for a money raising project for a scholarship to an Honor Society member, and for a spring luncheon. The SHH had a short meeting in February to plan for its banquet to initiate new members. Members also set up a schedule of meeting times so that they could prepare for the achievement and advanced placement tests. This year, Paschal hosted the annual Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica convocation, through which chapters in Texas are invited to participate in contests such as grammar, vocabulary, and poetry.

PSOP Picks Up Paschal Spirit with Year of Hops, Skits

Spirit grew by leaps and bounds this year as Panthers-Spirit of Paschal continued to support athletics by promoting enthusiasm. These active Panthers were working hard in early summer, carrying out ideas for making signs to decorate the halls of Paschal. By the opening of school, action and PSOP fit together well. The PSOP'ers began creating different skits for pep rallies and giving extra spark to game days. They also sold tickets for such school functions as Paschal's Homecoming Dance held at the Sheraton Hotel.

Panthers-Spirit of Paschal has been in existence since 1965. These fifty seniors, wearing their purple and white western uniforms, serve as Paschal's honor guard at certain activities and functions. Members of the PSOP are elected by fellow classmates in the spring of their junior year.

Panther Enthusiasts Boost Spirit To New, Awe--Inspiring Heights

A new addition this year at Paschal has been the presence of Purple and White Spirit. Purple and white can be seen everywhere — in the halls, at pep rallies, and at the games on the special days. The 400 members, sponsored by Mrs. Lorber and Miss Brazile make up one of the largest spirit clubs that Paschal has ever known. PAWS meet in the spring to elect their officers for the next year. All summer, members are busy making their uniforms and planning for the next year's activities and the many anticipated victories.

PAWS appear as a group at all football, basketball, and baseball games, yelling along with the cheerleaders. They are able to go onto the field before a game starts and chant out a few yells. This doesn't wear them out, though as they continue through the whole game and afterwards at the football boys' field house. PAWS have created a feeling of unity by boosting spirit throughout the entire school.

Upper center: Nancy Bradfield, Cathi Richards, Dede deCoverly and Gayhe Wilkinson work diligently to finish their uniforms before the school year begins. Lower center: Teacher, may I be excused? Jennifer Stumhoffer, Kay Massey, and Karen Williams, all members of PAWS cheer with other members to boost the team on to win. Lower right: *Hey! French Club Activities Range From Cuisine To Philosophy Varied cultural and artistic aspects have comprised the projects executed by the French Club this year. Under the sponsorship of Miss Annette Wiley, the club has prepared and eaten a French meal in the kitchen of the Texas Boy's Choir and journeyed to Miss Wiley's farm, a trip which encompassed such activities as a discussion on existentialism. A luncheon at Le Bistro filled one Sunday afternoon for enthusiastic club members while a trip to the statewide French symposium in Seguin, Texas proved the numerous events of the year worthwhile. The representatives from Paschal garnered four ribbons in listening comprehension and vocabulary study.

La Societe Francaise originated in order that French students might become better acquainted with the French culture and to create interest in the language. The club has achieved this goal through its many years of existence.

Latin Clubs Study Influence of Roman Custom on Modern Culture

Sodalitas Latina, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Deana Blackburn, strives to put meaning into the ancient traditions of the Roman society by fashioning their activities after events such as the Ides of March, the Saturnalia festival of games and celebration, and the Floralia or Festival of Flowers. The celebration of Vergil's birthday and others like him stress their importance in the literature and history of a civilization which has survived in history texts for thousands of years. From the fifty members of the Sodalitas Latina club, Gary Woods was elected as President, Holly Hutcheson as Vice-President, Brian Reid as Secretary, Linda Lewis as Treasurer and Cathy Garrison as the Club Reporter.

Semper Populusque Roma, better known as the SPQR, is Paschal's honorary Latin club, exclusively for second year Latin students. It is the interest of these eighteen members that has encouraged them to continue with their Latin studies and has enriched their knowledge of its background.

Pan Am Production at Rosemont Highlights Service Projects

Respect and understanding for all Hispanic cultures are the aims of El Club Panamericano, Paschal's Spanish Club. Open to all students who are interested in furthering the goals of the club, Pan Am is affiliated with the Pan American Student Forum of Texas. The organization is also a member of the Fort Worth-Dallas Pan Am District Council, which is composed of chapters in this metropolitan area.

Club members worked hard during the year, raising money for various local and state projects. Halloween trick-or-treat for UNICEF earned over two hundred and fifty dollars. Bake sales and candy sales were other fund raising activities. At Christmas, Pan Am'ers presented a Spanish program for the bilingual students at Rosemont Middle School. In March, fourteen delegates attended the annual state convention in San Antonio. Activities planned for the end of the year are a banquet and the yearbook cover sales. The last project of the year is the presentation of the Louise Bomar scholarship to a Pan Am member for the study of Spanish.

Deutscher Verein Holds Car Wash At Local Service Station

Of Paschal's many language clubs, the German Club is the newest; this is its first year of existence. Although there have been German Clubs in the past, this year marked the formation of Deutscher Verein. This club promotes the study and enjoyment of the German language and culture, and is a member of the Texas Association of German Students.

Since they began the school year with an empty treasury, the first project was to raise money. Members publicized a car wash which was held at a local service station. The German students also planned an Oktoberfest for December. Several members attended the annual state convention.

Russian Society Holds Car Wash Same Day--Competition Stiff

Russian Club members for the 1971-72 school year began activities by raising money to buy a Russian typewriter; they sponsored a car wash in October. This has led to numerous events serving to promote the Russian culture in its greatest splendor — in literature, art, music, and religious works.

Among other ventures were included a skating party, an afternoon at the movie "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," and a bake sale. Perhaps the most impressive and important event of the year was a meeting for both parents and club members. The meeting boasted speakers who had just returned from the Soviet Union; they were students from Southwest High School and University of Texas at Arlington.

Creative Writing Classes Turn Out Literary Magazine

Sudden inspiration is rarely the key to good writing, so the Vignette staff has to work hard to turn out an original, creative literary magazine. Composed of the creative writing classes, the staff begins work with the first homework assignment. This year, the first semester class produced a movie, "To Kill an Art Form: The History of the Vignette," for their creative project. During the second semester, the class and staffers from the first semester assembled the magazine, which they released in mid-May.

New Staff Gives New Face to Fiftieth Year Pantherette

Partner to the new front page style of the Pantherette, in-depth articles, letters, and editorials fill the inside pages. Large spreads were published concerning such school concerns as the "decline" of PSOP. The need of passes for entrance into the library was another issue of heated debate in the Letters section. Sensitive to the outside world, the staff has done intensive reporting on the Big Thicket campaign, Supreme Court nominees, and the problems in India.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Allana Martin, the students produce bi-monthly publications for the benefit of their fellow Paschalites. Now in it's fiftieth year of existence the Paschal Pantherette is still going as hard and strong as ever.

Collaboration of Talents Yields PANTHER Success

From Saturday mornings spent taking favorites' pictures in the park, to the negotiations necessary for permission to use museum interiors as background, the PANTHER staff works long and hard to assemble a yearbook. Work begins in early summer with discussion of theme ideas. Then, when school opens, layouts have to be drawn, pictures have to be taken, and copy and captions have to be written. Around deadline-date, ten hour marathons are held to get the book in on time.

But perhaps the hardest job of all is keeping secrets from friends and teachers. Everyone wants to know who are the favorites, how the staff will announce that the yearbooks are ready, and most of all, when will they be here. The job gets harder as the year wears on. By March, the staff members wear a poker face constantly, but they know that it will have been worth all the effort when the day finally arrives that they can say, "THE ANNUALS ARE HERE!"

AFS Seeks Worldwide Friendship Through Exchange Students

Understanding and learning are brought together through friendship in the American Field Service Club. Sponsoring foreign exchange students and providing a wide range of undertaking with which to involve these students is a major function of the club. Mrs. Leola Curtis, sponsor, has supervised such events as AFS night at the Scott Theater where they saw the production of "Present Laughter." Afterwards the club members were invited to attend the cast party.

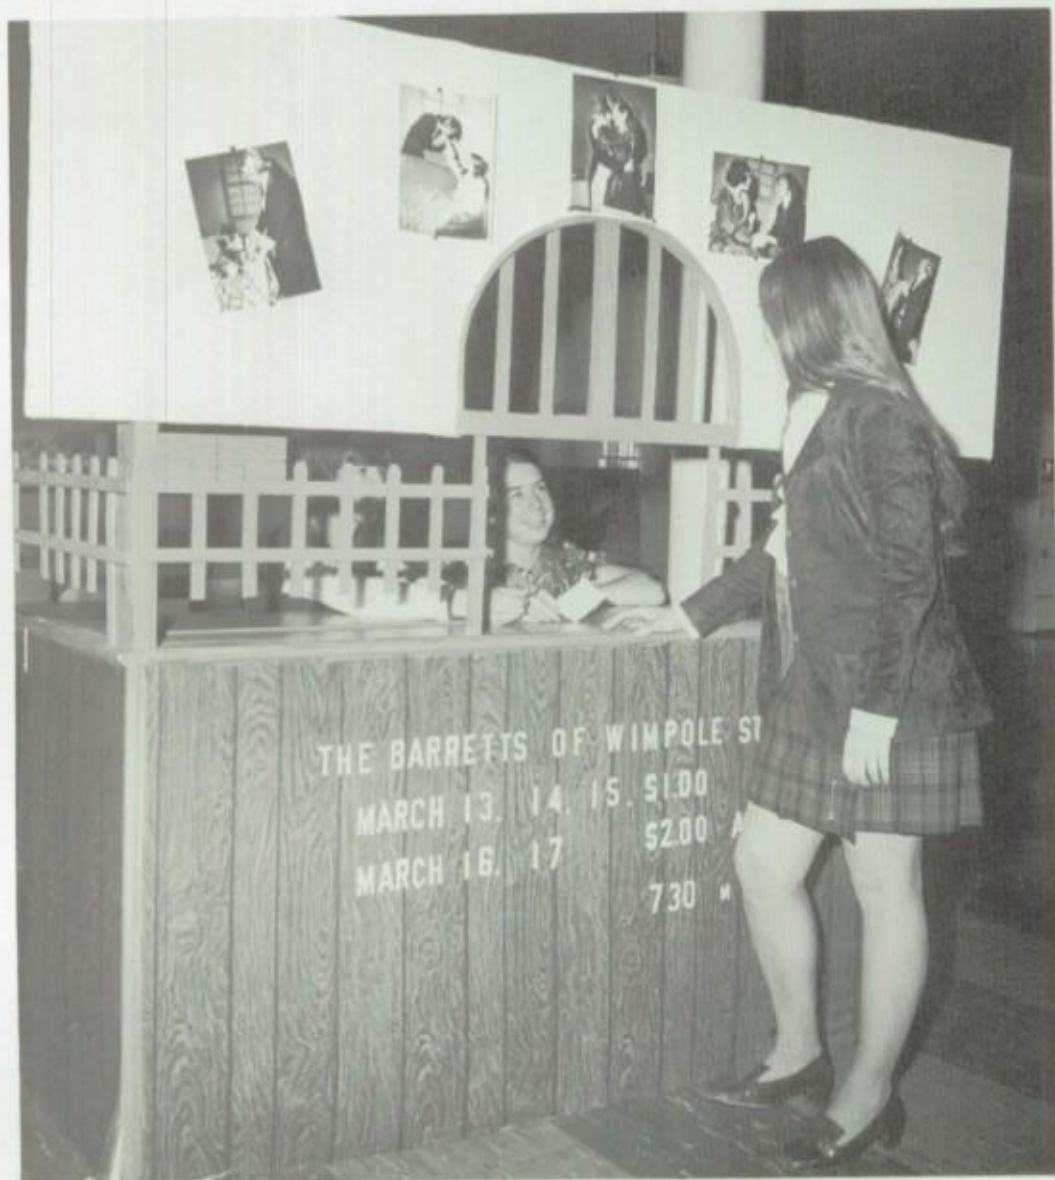

A bake sale at Monnig's Westcliff, an egg sale, a city-wide Christmas party, and St. Patrick's Day at O'Leary's ice cream parlour were also included on the roster of events by the AFS. In addition to these projects, the members also sold assorted grab bags from door to door to raise money.

Paschal's foreign exchange student this year is Graciela Fabio from Argentina. The club has also adopted three other foreign students, Edith Abel from Germany, Anders Orneberg from Sweden, and Ana Pugliese from Brazil. All the foreign exchange students are automatically classified as seniors.

Unity is shared, warmth and caring are reflected, and gratitude and pride are released by all the members of AFS. Honest attitudes are gained from the intermingling of different cultures along with pride in one's own country. International understanding is promoted in the Paschal chapter of AFS.

Vagabonds Display Performances Showing True Dramatic Talent

True talent was previewed this year as the Vagabond Players presented several plays to Paschal audiences. In December, they presented several one-act plays including "Yes Means No," "Anybody and Anybody Else," and a collection of Jules Pfeiffer skits. The biggest play of the year, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," gave Paschalites a view of the past. This three act play was accompanied by the presence of an English bobby roaming the halls and a quaint mid-Victorian tea. Part of the money netted from the performances was given to the Chicano Task Force for a trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Miriam Todd, sponsor of this active group, is also a speech and drama teacher. This will be her last year of teaching, after forty-three successful years of directing and presenting plays for former and present Paschal students.

The Vagabond Players were first organized to give a better insight and appreciation of the theater. Those students in advanced speech and drama classes gain use of this pursued aim by getting the chance to act on stage regularly.

FMC Members Seek Understanding Through Medical Developments

Students interested in pursuing a medical career make up the Future Medical Careers Club. Sponsored by Paschal's nurse, Mrs. Funderburgh, the club keeps students well informed about current medical discoveries and opportunities awaiting. Through tours and speakers, the members learn more about true medicine today and how it is applied.

A tour of Harris Hospital began the club's activities in the fall followed soon by a tour of the T.C.U. Science Labs. They also toured Carter Blood Center and heard a speaker talk on cardiovascular surgery. In the spring, a trip to the Galveston medical school was anticipated.

FMC members become better aware of medical facilities through speakers and tours. The twenty-five members of the club met once a month during the fall and spring semesters.

Since the formation of the Leadership Committee in 1968 a unique opportunity has existed at Paschal for the voice of the student body to be heard. Yet, few people have taken advantage of this. At the beginning of this school year a small band of students decided to make use of the system.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Danny McKay the pupils organized and began investigations into school problems and feasible solutions; they intended to present them as proposals to the Leadership Committee. Among the problems studied during the first semester were the final exam exemptions for "A" students and the possibility of student courts. As discussed these courts would take care of all student appeals.

Along with the second semester came a change in sponsorship. Miss Jhani Wright began supervision of the meetings. The students decided not to have elected officers, allowing a more equal distribution of responsibility. Spring projects included discussion with Mr. Twain Morrow concerning confusion in the new math center and a poll on student rights.

Science Club Focuses Attention Toward Discovery, Invention

Scientifically speaking, the Science Club has devoted much of its time to studying solutions to the problems facing our world. The forty members took many field trips and heard speakers talk on various subjects. Visits to Terrell Laboratories, John Peter Smith Hospital, and the T.C.U. Physical Science Department benefited interested students. In addition, the Trinity River Beautification Project and discussion of possible Science Fair applicants were readily presented to the members with slides and speakers. They also had the privilege of going to the zoo to see an autopsy being performed on a seal. A trip has been planned for spring.

The purpose of Paschal's Science Club is to encourage all students to widen their knowledge of the sciences and related fields. They have designated Thursday afternoon as a time when anyone wishing to do a research project may come and work. All school equipment and any information or advice are available. Mr. Gerald Wall sponsors this active group.

Chess Tournaments Challenging To Members' Wits, Ingenuity

Discipline and intense concentration are earmarks of the members of Paschal's Chess Club. With the organizational meeting of the club in October, students began practicing techniques and stratagems. Contests were held between the members themselves during the winter and spring. Later, they challenged the O. D. Wyatt High School Chess Club to a tournament. The traditional affair between the rivals is for the possession of a plaque which represents the championship.

Paschal's Ecologists Work for More Beautiful Schoolgrounds

Combining work with fun, the Ecology Club accomplishes its tasks in a painless way. While picking up trash on the schoolgrounds may not be everyone's idea of fun, these students have found a concern for the environment in the predictions of its destruction which makes it personal for them.

To date, the students have planted a tree for the school, gone picnicking where they collected litter, and placed trash cans at conspicuous points throughout the campus. At their weekly meetings problems and solutions, especially solutions practicable on a high school level, are discussed. Sponsored by Mr. Danny McKay, the Ecology Club is quite industrious.

Projectionists Learn Mechanics of Audio-Visual Equipment

An addition to Paschal's organizations this year is the Projectionist Club. Composed of those students interested in the school's audio-visual equipment, the projectionists meet each week in the library to learn how to operate the various pieces of equipment. At the meetings, club members demonstrate the mechanics of numerous movie and slide projectors, tape recorders, and the newest addition to Paschal's equipment, the Video Tape Recorder, an advanced projector.

Both the organization and its sponsor, Mrs. Joyce Austin are new at Paschal this year. The purpose in the formation of the Projectionist Club is not only to teach members how to operate the audio-visual aids, but also to provide them with a practical application of these skills by having them run the equipment whenever it is necessary.

Penta Club Strives for Higher Achievement In Mathematics

A better understanding of mathematics and the skills is represented in the Penta Club. Members are encouraged to make better grades in math and to seek out answers to any mathematical problem bothering them. At the end of each nine weeks Penta Club members go to all the math classes and distribute ribbons to students for their excellent achievement. Special awards are presented to math students at the end of the year for outstanding merit on given tests.

Guest speakers frequently come and talk to the members about further interest in mathematics. Meetings are held usually once a month throughout the year where plans are formed for an activity. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Carolyn Summerford, the club is open to anyone interested in math. Students thinking about continuing math are especially urged to join. Math is portrayed by the club as being fun and challenging to all interested Paschal students.

As the Sun Sinks Slowly in the West--It's Time for the Rodeo

Saddle bronc, bulldogging, and barrel racing became an integral part of Paschal life this year with the formation of the Rodeo Club. These students, many of whom had prior knowledge and experience with rodeo events, sponsored the contests and competed along with other area high schools.

Under the guidance of Mr. Tom Reese the pupils met at various members' houses to make plans. The arenas and stock were rented and paid for with box office receipts and entrance fees. Winners received trophies and patches which are proudly displayed on the arm of their club jackets. Hopefully these students will continue the Rodeo Club next year.

Future Homemakers Prepare for Successful Domestic Careers

"To strengthen the function of the family as a basic unit of society

To become aware of the multiple roles of men and women in today's society

To develop interest in home economics, home economics careers, and related occupations"

These are among the aims of the Future Homemakers of America.

In September they began their activities with the installation of officers. In the fall, members journeyed to the State Fair where they viewed exhibits in the home economics building. For spring, conventions were ordered, with the Area House of Delegate Meeting and the Area Meeting in Denton. The city and statewide FHA meetings were held in April. National FHA Week was recognized in late March.

PHS Marching Band Boosts School Spirit at Pep Rallies, Games

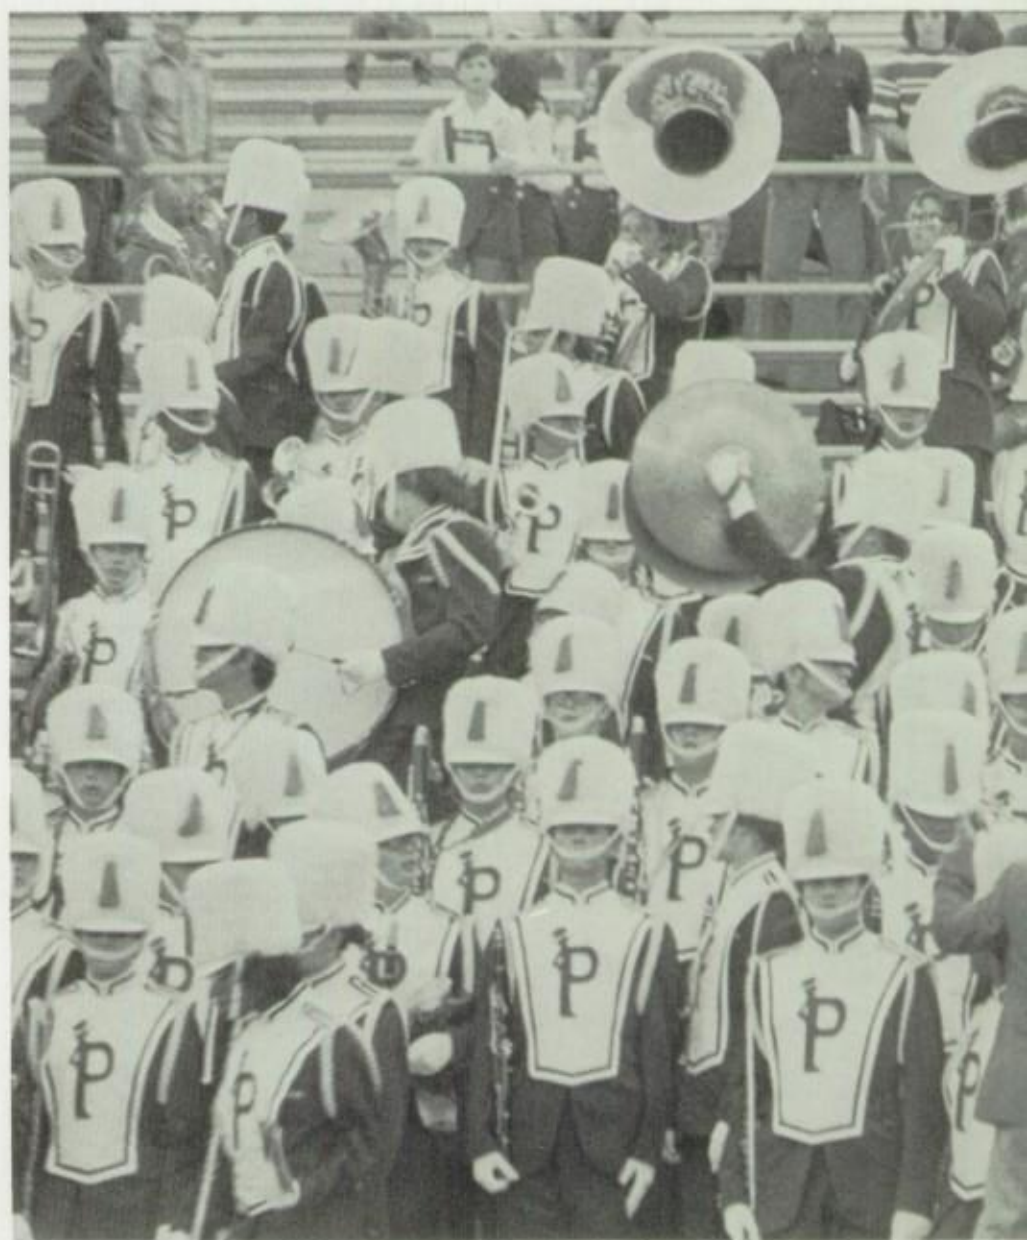

Football fans enjoyed Paschal's A Marching Band during game half-times; they saw and heard the band performing with its traditional perfection. They did not know, however, of the long practice hours necessary for the field performance.

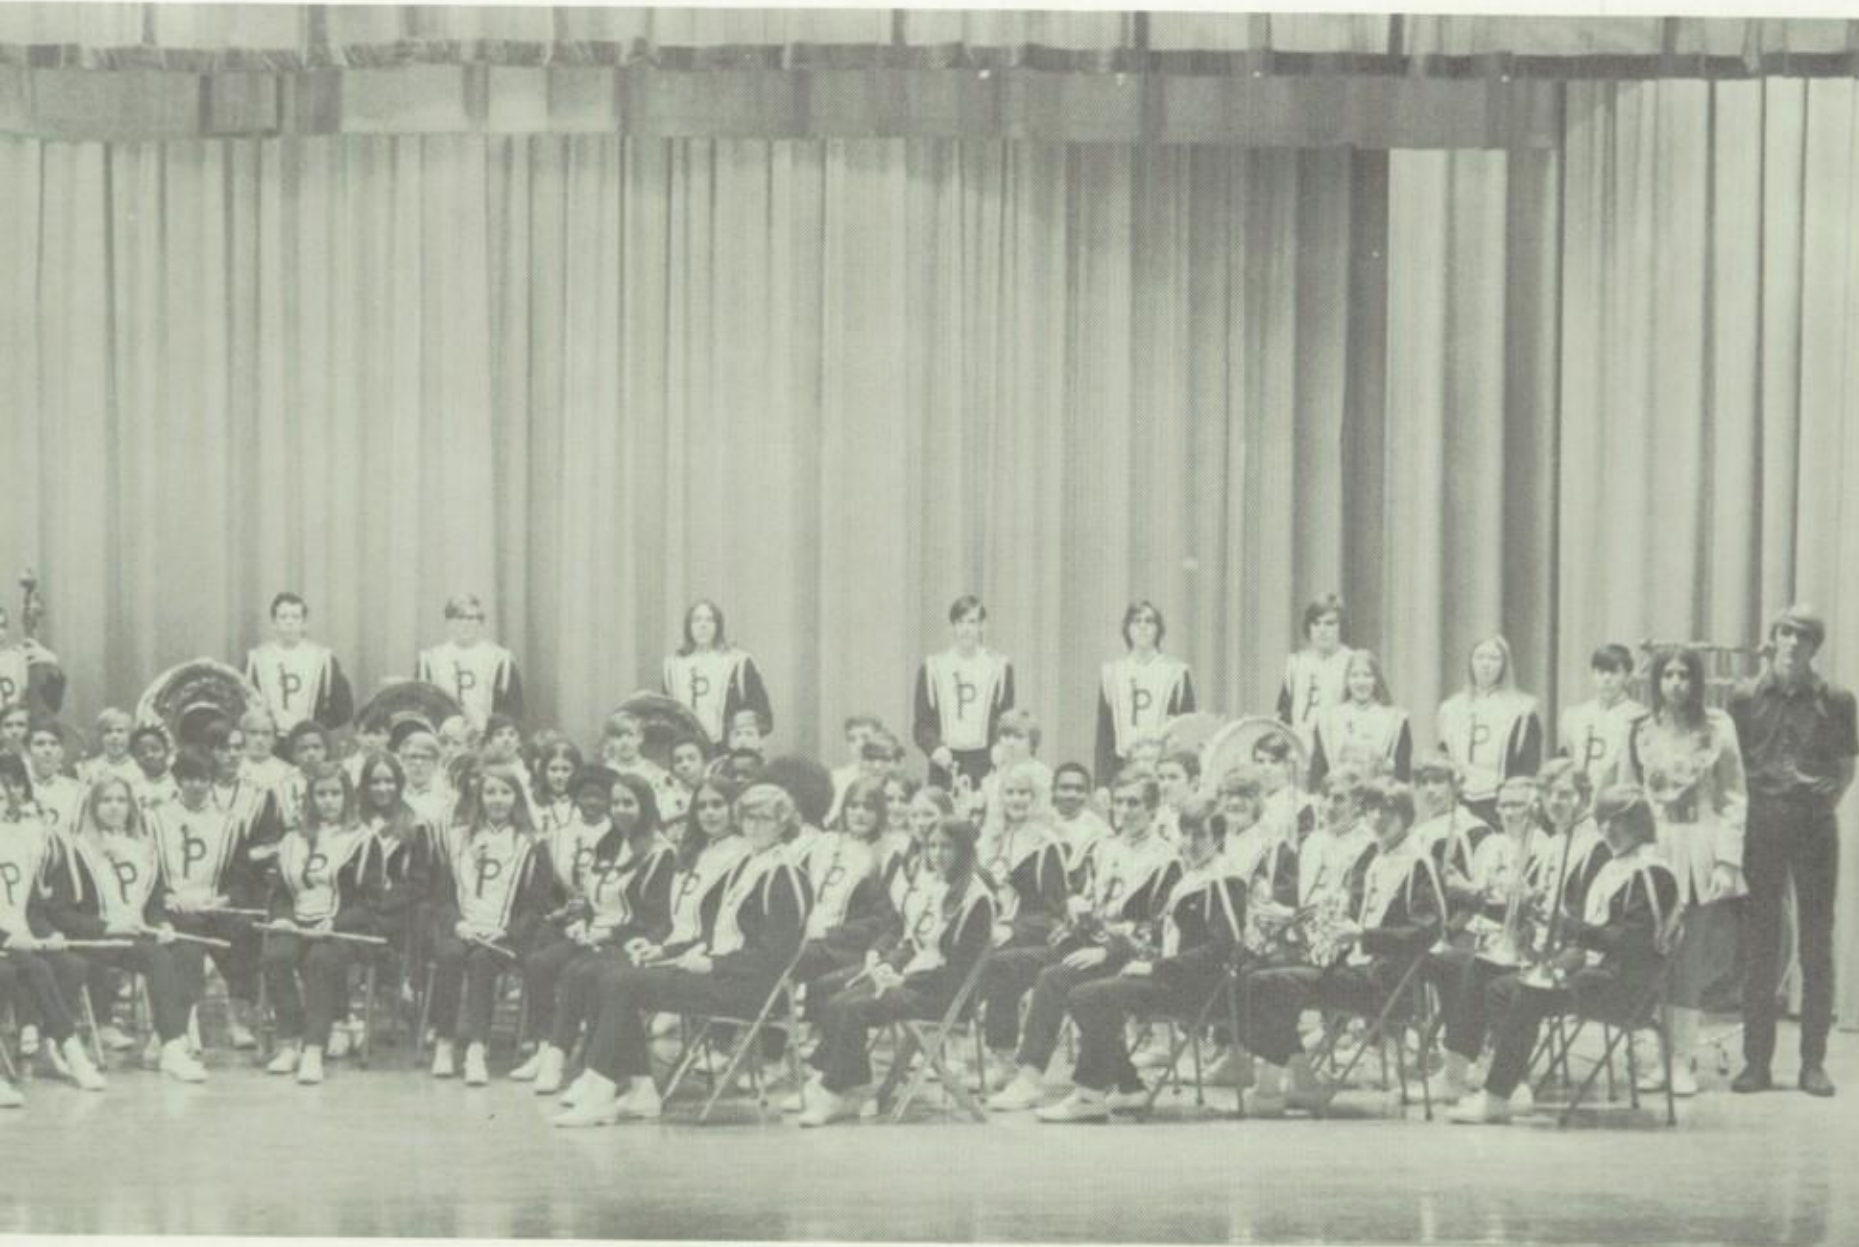

Rehearsals began in early August. Band members met often, acquainting themselves with their new director, Mr. David Tucker. They studied new music, and a new marching technique, with six steps to every five yards instead of eight steps to every five yards. When the football season opened, the band was ready to play at pep rallies and games.

Paschal's Marching Band has proven itself superior in the many contests entered. In the fall, the Band earned first and second division prizes in the Fort Worth Marching Contest and the Azle Marching Contest. Paschal also entered the Tri-State Contest in Enid, Oklahoma in the spring. Band members earned the money to pay for their music and the travel expenses. Paschalites can easily be proud of their band, whose devotion has resulted in a great 1971-72 season.

Undergraduate Bands Participate in Music Department Activities

Undergraduate bands form an important part of Paschal's music department. Both the B Band and the Freshman Band, composed of first year band members and ninth graders, meet at one period each day to learn and practice the skills needed to play in the A Marching Band. Undergraduate band members also take part in the same money raising activities as the A Marching Band. Usually after one year in either the B or Freshman Band, students are adequately qualified for acceptance as members of Paschal's A Marching Band.

Stage Band's Untiring Rehearsal Leads to Switzerland Festival

Many times when one walks across the schoolgrounds late at night the glow of lights will be visible from the band hall and the strains of the First Stage Band will be heard. These band members work long and diligently to improve their musical skills; and their work pays off. This school year they have played at various events—from country clubs to conventions; and have participated in several contests and competitions—from Big Springs, Texas to Ruskin, Louisiana.

As one of the top stage bands in the country, Paschal's First Stage Band has been invited, along with eleven other high school groups in the United States, to attend the Montreux International Jazz Festival in Switzerland. Departure from Fort Worth has been slated for some time in June.

Undergraduate stage bands also hold special practices and enter contests. Hopefully, at auditions next fall, these students will become part of the First Stage Band.

Orchestras Form Integral Part of Paschal Music Department

A major part of Paschal's music department is the orchestras, under the direction of Mrs. Pat Atkinson. Membership in either the "A" or "B" Orchestra provides gifted students with the opportunity to demonstrate and develop their own special skills in the various fields of music.

In addition to performing at the annual December and spring assemblies for the Paschal student body, members of the orchestras presented programs at various middle schools throughout Fort Worth. Paschal also entered several competitions such as the University Interscholastic League contest, the All-Region, and the All-State Competitions. Four Paschalites were accepted into the All-State Orchestra. The last performance was scheduled as the Baccalaureate.

Paschal Mixed Chorus Presents Concert at Middle Schools

Classes near the music wing at periods two, five and seven often note snatches of music drifting from the chorus hall. Here, the Freshman, Girls', and Mixed Choruses execute their daily practice sessions with true brio. Under the direction of Mrs. Pat Atkinson, the choruses entered such competitions as the University Interscholastic League and the All-City contests, maintaining their usual high ratings. The choruses displayed their talents at various concerts; they performed at Paschal's annual Holiday and Spring Concerts and took a special program to the middle schools in order to build a deeper appreciation of the fine arts.

New to the choruses' repertoire of fund raising activities were the comb sales which took place in the early fall. Another money-making project was the chocolate candy sale.

Distributive Education Surveys Merchants Along Berry Street

By supplementing required high school courses, the Distributive Education Program provides Paschal students with an opportunity to earn money while learning marketing and distribution techniques. Participants in the DE Program, which is limited to juniors and seniors, attend school in the mornings, taking required courses and the DE classroom.

The major project for the year was a survey of Berry Street merchants to determine their views on the construction to widen the street. Distributive Education students also served as a courtesy corps for the Texas Association of Automobile Wholesalers. Other activities for the year were the annual Employer-Employee Banquet, held early in the spring semester, and the area and state conference contests.

Vocational Office Education Aims at Competency, Efficiency

In the spring of the school year sophomores and juniors apply for entrance into the Vocational Office Education program for the next fall. Upon receiving clearance from their counselors, these students automatically become members of the Office Education Association divided into the Laboratory and Co-op sections. Besides the regular classroom activities, pupils are engaged in numerous outside parties and projects.

The Laboratory is concerned mainly with learning the operation of various office equipment such as the mimeoscope, fluid duplicator, electronic calculator, and dictaphone. Fulfilling course requirements is a matter of individual discipline. In the Co-op section students take jobs in which they are guided by class instructors as well as their employers.

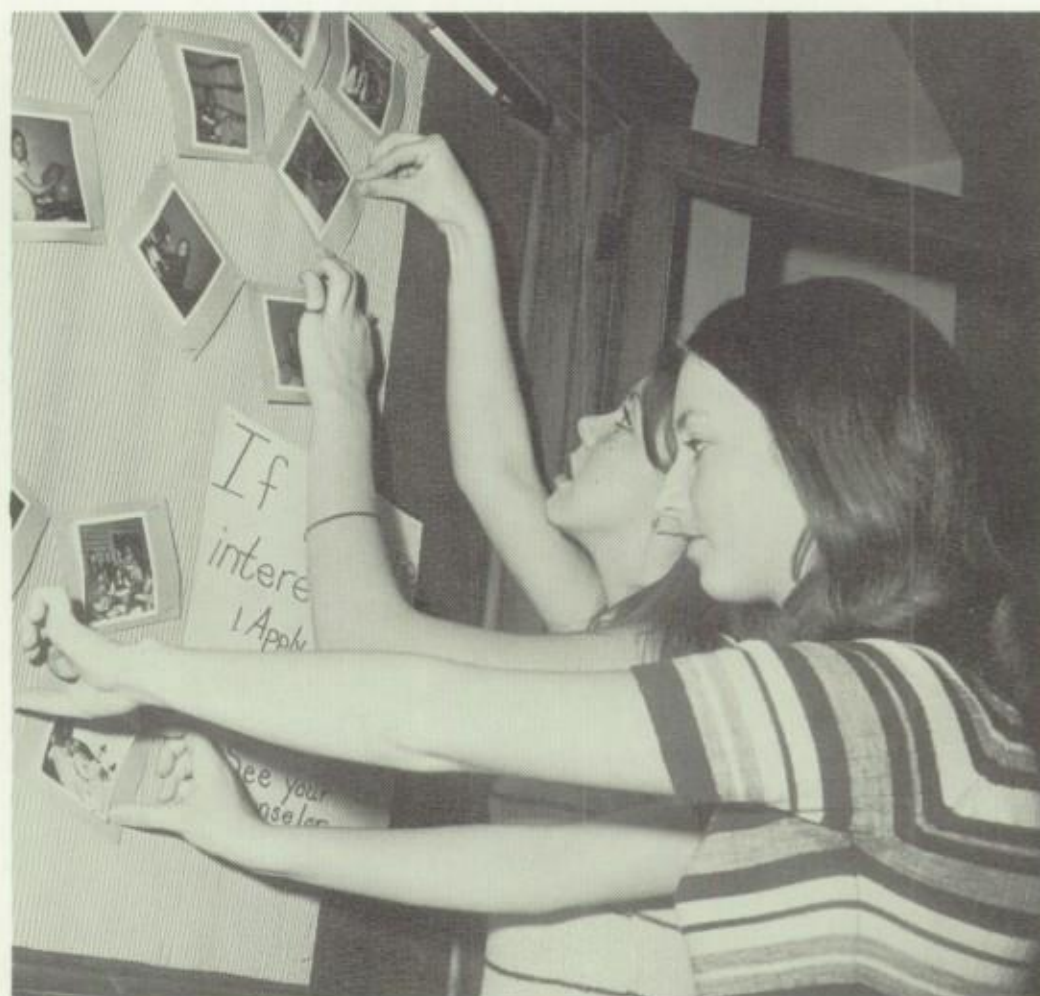

During free time, the members of the organizations often meet for early morning breakfasts, picnics and skating parties. This year the Lab went Christmas caroling and afterwards celebrated with a small party. The Co-op entertained at the Kent Rest Home and was co-sponsor, with other Co-ops in Fort Worth, of their annual employer-employee banquet.

HECE Provides Daily Experience in Home Economics Relations

Various surprises accompanied members of the Home Economics Cooperative Education as they worked daily at chosen jobs. All the jobs pertained to homemaking or home management, which gave the students knowledge and training for future employment. Members of this organization were required to work fifteen hours each week of school. Upon conclusion of a set program at the end of the school year they then received three credits. HECE provides unlimited challenges to senior high school students interested in this special

HERO Students Serve as Teachers Aids in Elementary Schools

Students interested in elementary school teaching are members of the Home Economics Related Occupations Club. This newly founded club is an extension of the Future Homemakers of America and has proved to be very rewarding. They serve as teachers, aids in a variety of subjects such as English, math, science, or social studies in area schools.

Students are able to leave Paschal and go to an assigned elementary school nearby to practice their skills. The students are able to help with grading papers, individual tutoring, and are even given the chance to teach an entire class. Guest speakers have also come and talked to the students about different aspects of human relations in working. VICA Members Acquire Knowledge of Medical Techniques

The twenty-eight members of Paschal's chapter of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, along with their sponsor and instructor, Mrs. Evelyn Pittman, enjoyed a rewarding year, combining work and fun. These students are employed in all phases of medicine. They attend school for half the day, then spend the other half at work as technicians, therapists and aides for clinics in the Paschal area.

Special activities this year include a leadership training meeting in Brownwood, Texas and a Christmas party. As a special project, club members chose a child and his brothers and sisters from the Easter Seal Society. By taking these children on special outings, VICA members helped them gain confidence in themselves and trust in others. Students also began training as aides for daily work at the Society.

Cheerleader's Enthusiasm Revives Old Spirit at Paschal

With Panther spirit blazing, the Paschal cheerleaders led the school through the year's athletic events. The ten member spirit machine generated traditional Paschal enthusiasm which completely dispelled early accusations of student apathy. Pep rallies, boasting new cheers and chants, radiated with the excitement of the cheerleaders. Throughout the school spirit spread, pushing the Panthers on to victory and uniting everyone with the tie of school pride.

The cheerleaders began preparing for their responsibilities of exhibiting good form and genuine enthusiasm by practicing during the summer and attending the cheerleading school at S.M.U. While at the exhausting week-long clinic, the cheerleaders demonstrated their outstanding spirit and form, winning high honors in competition which earned them the coveted spirit stick and a prestigious position among other schools. Under the direction of their new sponsor, Miss Henderson, the cheerleaders showed their winning qualities throughout the ups-and-downs of the year's activities.

1971 Season Re-Establishes Paschal's Traditional Status

Haunted by last season's albatross, a 10-game losing streak, the 1971 Panther football team succumbed to their first two rivals, Highland Park and state-ranked Arlington. However, instead of throwing in the towel they launched a counter-attack to shape the best season in three years. The first non-losing experience for Paschal occurred on a journey to Sherman where they battled to a 13-13 decision. Rejuvenated, the Panthers in their next start recorded their first win in 14 outings as they took Poly 7-6. Terrell's win over Paschal the next week broke their winning streak but only for a brief time as the fighting Purple came back to a Homecoming victory over Carter in their first district game. Continuing on the road to success, Paschal stomped their next opponent, Western Hills, to move into a first place tie with North Side. Failing their toughest test, the Panthers lost to the Steers the following game to slip down in the district standings. Paschal came right back against Southwest as they defeated them by a score of 21-14. The final game of the season proved to be a dismal one as the Panthers lost to Arlington Heights 27-6, which moved them into a three-way tie for second place in the district. The final district record for Paschal was 3-2. The lack of a Paschal championship, was compensated by superb sportsmanship, an intense desire to win, and an overall team effort.

Fired Up Panthers Fall To Tough Highlanders, Colts In Season Openers

Paschal was fired up for the first game of the season but Highland Park built an early lead and won 27-7. The Panthers, although ahead in total yardage, trailed 20-0 at the half mainly because of fumbles. Paschal got off to a bad start, losing the ball on the first play after scrimmage. The Scots then fumbled the ball back to the Panthers starting a Paschal drive which carried the ball from their fifteen to the Highlander's 22-yard line. A field goal attempt from that point by Mark Johnson was no good. Paschal scored its one touchdown in the third quarter when quarterback Michie Brous ran around the end in a sweep from the five-yard line on a fourth down. The scoring play was set up by Marc Parten who intercepted a Scot pass and returned it twenty-five yards to the Highland Park ten. Parten had earlier carried another interception for thirty-five yards. Ken Maxwell also intercepted a Scot pass which he ran back twenty-one yards in the last few minutes of the first half.

Nothing seemed to be in Paschal's favor as they were defeated by the tough Arlington High School Colts 49-0. As the sixth ranked team in the state, Arlington overpowered the Panthers for a total of seven touchdowns. The Colts lucked out by recovering three Paschal fumbles. Interceptions also played an important role in the game. Paschal had six passes intercepted by the Arlington defense, setting up a few Colt touchdowns. The Panthers only scoring threat came with only seconds left in the game as they progressed sixty yards to the Colt one-yard line, but quarterback John Newport's plunge from the one was unsuccessful.

Upper: Mark Johnson kicks off the season for the Paschal Panthers as the rest of the aggressive squad surges downfield to keep the Scotties deep in their own territory. Center: Outstanding safety Robert Broyles (20) makes contact with a Highland Park receiver while teammate Marc Parten (30) arrives for the assist. Lower: An emotional Paschal team cannot keep their seats as they urge their teammates on to victory.

Paschal-Sherman Tie Pushes Panthers on to Victory Over Poly for First Season Win

A lengthy dry spell ended when Paschal tied Sherman in a game played in pouring rain. Number thirteen proved not to be unlucky as the Panthers escaped a possible thirteenth loss in a row by tying Sherman 13-13. Paschal got on the scoreboard when Darrel Johnston bullied his way in for a touchdown after the Panthers jarred the ball loose and recovered a fumble at Sherman's 5 yard line. The kick by Mark Johnson tacked on the extra point. The tying score came in the third quarter when the Paschal defensive line mowed over Sherman and blocked a punt which was recovered on the Sherman three. Two plays later Johnston again went in for the score. The extra point, which would have meant victory for the Panthers, was no good. Paschal's defense held Sherman's yardage to a minimum, but even rain and a muddy field did not stop the determined Panther offense.

Paschal fans went wild when the Panthers rolled past Poly 7-6 to win their first game in fourteen outings. The Panther touchdown came at the end of a 60-yard drive in the second quarter. Michie Brous darted around left end as the Parrots were completely faked out of position, and ran 27 yards for the score. Mark Johnson successfully converted the point-after attempt. Poly scored in the fourth quarter but the attempted two-point conversion was intercepted by Glen Davis in the end zone preventing the score which would have put Poly in the lead. Late in the fourth quarter punter Mark Johnson dropped a low snap and got off a bad kick, but Poly fumbled and Johnson recovered saving the game for the Panthers. Paschal retained possession of the ball within its own 5 yard line and was able to run out the clock. Most of Paschal's yardage was gained through a fierce running attack led by Tommy Spragins.

Upper: Halfback Tommy Spragins (31) finds a hole in Poly's defense and picks up good Paschal yardage. Kevin Ausbrooks (74) and Ken Maxwell (44) helped open the gap for Spragins. Center: Sherman's carrier finds it tough to get yardage against the Paschal offense as he runs into a wall composed of Panthers. Lower: Mark Parten (30) lowers his head and rams a Sherman runner as George Wood (51), Gary Moore (72), Ken Maxwell (44) and Robert Broyles (20) charge.

Upper: The final whistle blew, and the Paschal spectators roared a powerful cheer as the scoreboard reflected victory. This game signified the end of the longest winless streak in Paschal's football history. Lower: Glen Davis (42) intercepts a Parrot pass and thwarts a try for a two-point conversion which would have put Poly in the lead late in the fourth quarter.

Upper: Michie Brous (11) shows some of his running style as he eludes a Terrell defender on his way to the goal line 22 yards away. The play resulted in the only Paschal touchdown of the evening. Lower: Halfback Dallas Dickerson (33) reaches for a perfectly thrown ball from quarterback Brous. The reception was good for a first down and good field position.

Terrell Jaunts Over Panthers, But Paschal Bounces Back To Take Homecoming Win

Unable to stop the long gains of Terrell, the Paschal Panthers fell to defeat 38-10. Paschal came on strong and was leading 7-6 late in the first quarter as quarterback Michie Brous uncorked his 9.8 speed on a 22-yard scoring sprint. Mark Johnson booted the extra point. However two long jaunts by Terrell, one with seconds remaining in the half and the other right after intermission, soon extinguished Paschal's hopes to win two in a row. Paschal had plenty of opportunities set up by the alert defense, which racked up four interceptions and recovered three fumbles. The Panthers' other points were added on with an impressive 36-yard field goal by Johnson in the second quarter. Paschal wrapped up its pre-conference play with a 1-3-1 mark.

Paschal waited until the fourth quarter to declare its intention to win, and with 59 seconds left, the Panthers overtook the Carter Eagles by a score of 13-7. A double homecoming crowd of 7,000 watched Paschal grab hold of its first district win and second win of the season. Carter scored first at the end of the third quarter, but the Panthers fought right back. The offense took possession at midfield and advanced to the Carter 27 with a 25-yard pass from Michie Brous to Dallas Dickerson and a 16-yard scamper by Brous. Several plays later on a fourth-and-six situation, Brous connected with Marc Perten on a 23-yard scoring play. Paschal elected to go for two, but the pass fell incomplete, leaving the Eagles with a 7-6 edge. The tough Panther defense held, and Paschal got the ball back at the Carter 41 with 2:30 left in the game. Darrel Johnston bullied his way downfield with runs of 17 and 13 yards and finally went off-tackle from two yards out for the winning score. Mark Johnson's kick capped the victory for Paschal.

Panthers Maul Cougars, Lose to North Side, Shattering District Title Hopes

Sparked by a tough goal-line stand and a 67-yard scoring run by Tommy Spragins, Paschal surged to a 18-13 victory over Western Hills. Paschal first scored late in the second quarter on a two-yard plunge by Spragins, followed by a successful two-point conversion pass from Michie Brous to Darrel Johnston. Mark Johnson's 28-yard field goal midway through the third quarter boosted the score to 11-7 in Paschal's favor. When the Cougars threatened to take the lead with a first down at the Paschal six, the unyielding defensive line stopped the ball at the one on the fourth down. Paschal had pushed downfield to the 33 when Spragins broke the Cougar line and ran 67 yards to score the clinching touchdown. The win established Paschal in a tie with North Side at the top of district standings with 2-0 marks.

Fort Worth's oldest high school football rivals met as North Side handed Paschal its first district loss 21-3. The Panthers moved well on their first possession using a hurried-up offense, lining up for the first 3 plays without a huddle. Tommy Spragins' halfback pass to regular quarterback Michie Brous, playing split end, netted 30 yards and set up Mark Johnson's 24-yard field goal. A Steer touchdown late in the first quarter set the score at 7-3 and it remained unchanged until the middle of the fourth quarter, as the defenses battled it out. However, North Side rallied for two quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter which put the score out of reach for the hungry Panthers. Paschal executed well throughout the game, leading North Side offensively in both first downs and total yardage.

Upper: Coaches Monty Harper and James Brewer discuss with quarterback Michie Brous (11) a new strategy to crack the defense of their tough crosstown rivals. Lower: Steve Davis (54), George Wood (51) and Maxwell (44) team up with the rest of the Panther defense to stop a gain. Paschal played it tough on defense, holding the Steers scoreless for 2½ quarters.

Fighting Purple Drives Old Dixie Down, Heights Thwarts Panthers' Last Stand

Excitement swelled as Paschal rallied late in the game to defeat Southwest 21-14. It was Paschal's third win in four league outings. Michie Brous scored the first Panther touchdown on a 36-yard run with a little less than ten minutes left in the first quarter. The point-after conversion failed and the Rebels were leading 7-6. The second Panther score came when Tommy Spragins bolted in from the two yard line. Then Brous rolled around right end for the two-point conversion to tie the game late in the third quarter. The score was set up by Mark Hill who recovered a fumble at the Southwest 17. The final and most crucial score for Paschal occurred with less than two minutes left in the game to cap an 11-play, 42-yard drive. Quarterback Brous faked a handoff and trotted into the end zone untouched from the 2 yard line. Michie Brous played an outstanding game for Paschal, as he scored 14 points and rushed for 111 yards on 17 carries. Standouts on the Panther defensive unit were Gary Moore, George Wood, Steve Davis, James Hogg and Tom Harter.

The football season ended for Paschal as a surprisingly tough Arlington Heights team soundly whipped them 27-6. The loss put Paschal in a three way tie for second place in the district standings. The Yellow Jackets combined a rowdy defense and a strong running attack to defeat the Panthers. The single score for Paschal came on a drive which started with only 33 seconds remaining in the first half and covered 49 yards in two plays. Michie Brous, after dashing for 15 yards, hit John Pinkerton for a 34-yard touchdown pass. A run for two points failed, and the Panthers were trailing 14-6 at the half. Capping a frustrating night for Paschal, Heights' defense shoved them back from a first down at the Jacket ten to a punting situation at the 42 halfway through the final period, where the punt travelled only eight yards.

Upper: Defensive end Tom Harter (80) swoops down on Southwest running ace Mike Francis after a long race downfield, to frustrate his thoughts of a touchdown. Center: Offensive linemen Kevin Ausbrooks (74) and James Hogg (70) take a rest as fullback Darrel Johnston bulldozes his way up the middle and is met by a wall of defensivemen, who politely drag him down. Lower: Paschal halfback Dallas Dickerson (33) runs around end in an effort to elude a Southwest player.

Upper: Quarterback Michie Brous (11) tries a little fancy ball-handling as he pitches back to one of his teammates before he is brought down by two linemen. Lower left: Coach James Brewer watches as Marc Parten (30) wrestles a Heights receiver to the ground. Lower right: Paschal's big defensive linebacker Kenny Maxwell (44) puts a crushing bear hug on a Yellow Jacket runner. Panther safety Robert Broyles (20) tries to help and ends up at the bottom of the pile.

Mid-Season Victories Display B-Team's Potential as Varsity Players

Emulating the varsity Panthers, Paschal's "B" football team also improved its preceding record with a new season mark of 3-6-1. A tying score with Dunbar opened the year for the "B" Panthers. However, the next three clashes were disappointing for the "B" team as they dropped a triad of games to Arlington, Diamond Hill and Poly. Determined to put some marks in the winner's column, the "B" team rallied and victimized Terrell 14-0. The next two bouts were equally impressive as the "B" Panthers defeated Carter 30-16 and Western Hills 14-0. But the "B" team's success was not to continue as its next opponents slowed down its winning drive. In their contest with North Side, the clock stopped a last minute scoring attempt by the Panthers who lost 22-24. The "B" team could not shake defeat and lost to Southwest and Arlington Heights in the last games of the season.

Under the coaching of Jimmie Crowder and George Taplin the "B" team displayed the drive and determination exemplary of Paschal gridirons throughout its season. Even though its new mark is not a phenomenal gain over last season's record, it is an improvement which indicates that the "B" team sharpened their claws well in readiness for next year.

Upper: Quarterback Pat Duran (10) highsteps his way into the end zone and leaves a Poly defender behind. Center: Defensive lineman Chris Winton (82) pulls in the Poly B-team quarterback as Tommy Hague (76) and Dean Giles (11) stumble in to assist their teammate. Lower: Paschal's defense displays its might as Tommy Fisher (53), Harry Southern (52), Kurt Kraft (42), Anthony Stewart (85) and Tommy Gamez (66) key on their assignments to assure a successful offensive play.

Ninth Graders Struggle Through Third Season

Hampered by a shortage of players and abundance of injuries, Paschal's "C" team earned a season record of 2-7-1. Although the ninth graders looked good in their pre-season win over last year's district champs, O. D. Wyatt, a 30-6 loss to Dunbar in the season opener halted hopes of a 10-0 year. The "C" Panthers fell to Eastern Hills 14-0 in their second game, but tied their next opponent Diamond Hill 0-0. Games were lost to Poly 26-6 and I. M. Terrell 14-0 before the "C" team stopped their winless streak. Carter dropped 27-12 to the ninth grade Panthers in their first win of the season. Another victory followed as Western Hills lost to the "C" team 13-6. After losing their next game to North Side 20-6, the freshman Panthers got really fired up for their contest with Southwest, keeping the score 0-0 until the last minutes of the game when the Rebels scored twice and won 14-0. However, the ninth graders' defense did not last against Arlington Heights who won the final game 38-7.

Paschal Cagers Capture Second Place in District Chase

The Paschal varsity basketball team under the direction of Coach Jim Wall in his first season at Paschal, raced to a 7-3 district record and a second place finish in the district standings. The Panthers came back from a disappointing 5-6 pre-district mark to a play-off berth against Southwest for first half honors. The Panther cagers were able to register wins against all contenders but the district co-champs, Southwest and Arlington Heights. However Heights' disqualification from first half play enabled P.H.S. to tie Southwest for the first half title, both with 4-1 records. Paschal fell to the Rebels by a narrow two points in the play-off game that went into double overtime, to wind up an exciting season for the Panthers.

Paschal's Two Post Men Receive District Recognition

Charlie Turner Ends 29 Year Career as Paschal's Cage Boss

Charlie L. Turner, head basketball coach at Paschal from 1943 until December, 1971, stepped down as cage boss with the distinction of being Fort Worth's all-time great high school basketball coach. During the 29 years that he coached at Paschal, the Panthers won 13 district championships from which six bi-district and three regional champions have come. In 1945, Coach Turner led the Panthers to the state championship, earning Paschal and Fort Worth its first state crown. In 1949, the Panthers won state again.

Charlie Turner retired from his coaching position at Paschal with the inimitable record of 560 wins and only 158 scattered losses. His entire coaching career, which began in 1937, records a total of 665 wins and 183 losses, and 35 years of perfect attendance, another impressive record.

Panthers Develop Individual Talents, Gain Experience in Pre-Season Games

One of the youngest teams in Paschal's cage history, hampered by a coaching change, battled to a 5-6 record against tough competition in a challenging pre-season schedule. The Panthers were paced by their two big men, Mark Wible and John George. George, a 6'5" sophomore, led the team in total points and in rebounds. 6'6" senior Mark Wible was close behind George in both areas. Defensively, junior Wade McMullen was the standout for Paschal. Donny Smith, the only other senior starter, could always be depended upon to be where the ball was, and led the team in assists with 31. Another sophomore, Joe Billingsley earned a starting spot in Paschal's line-up with his superb pre-season play. Billingsley's accuracy enabled him to shoot over 85% from the free throw line, missing only seven of 49 shots. Paschal won its first three pre-season games, but then fell into a slump taking only two of the last eight.

Panthers Sneak by Cougars, Suffer Southwest Upset, Stun Steers in Cage Openers

Excitement reigned as Paschal experienced victory in its first district outing by defeating Western Hills 48-46. The Panther's strategy throughout the game was to control the ball and wait for the good shots. Each member of the team played an intricate part in attaining the win. The sophomore duo of John George and Joe Billingsley led the scoring, contributing 33 points between them. The game was a close battle and the lead changed hands many times. A Joe Billingsley free throw with 14 seconds left made the score 46-44 in Paschal's favor, but Hills called time with 10 seconds to play, and drove in for the game-tying score. Smith then took the ball, passed it to Wade McMullen, who had only scored two points in the contest. McMullen then heaved a 40-foot desperation shot which ripped the net as the final buzzer sounded to give Paschal its first victory.

The second district game proved dismal for the Panthers as Southwest bombed them 83-50. The Rebels played almost perfect basketball, and Paschal could not stop them. The one bright spot for Paschal was a strong performance by senior Mark Wible, who scored seven field goals and six free throws for a 20 point output for the night before he fouled out. The loss put them in a tie for second place.

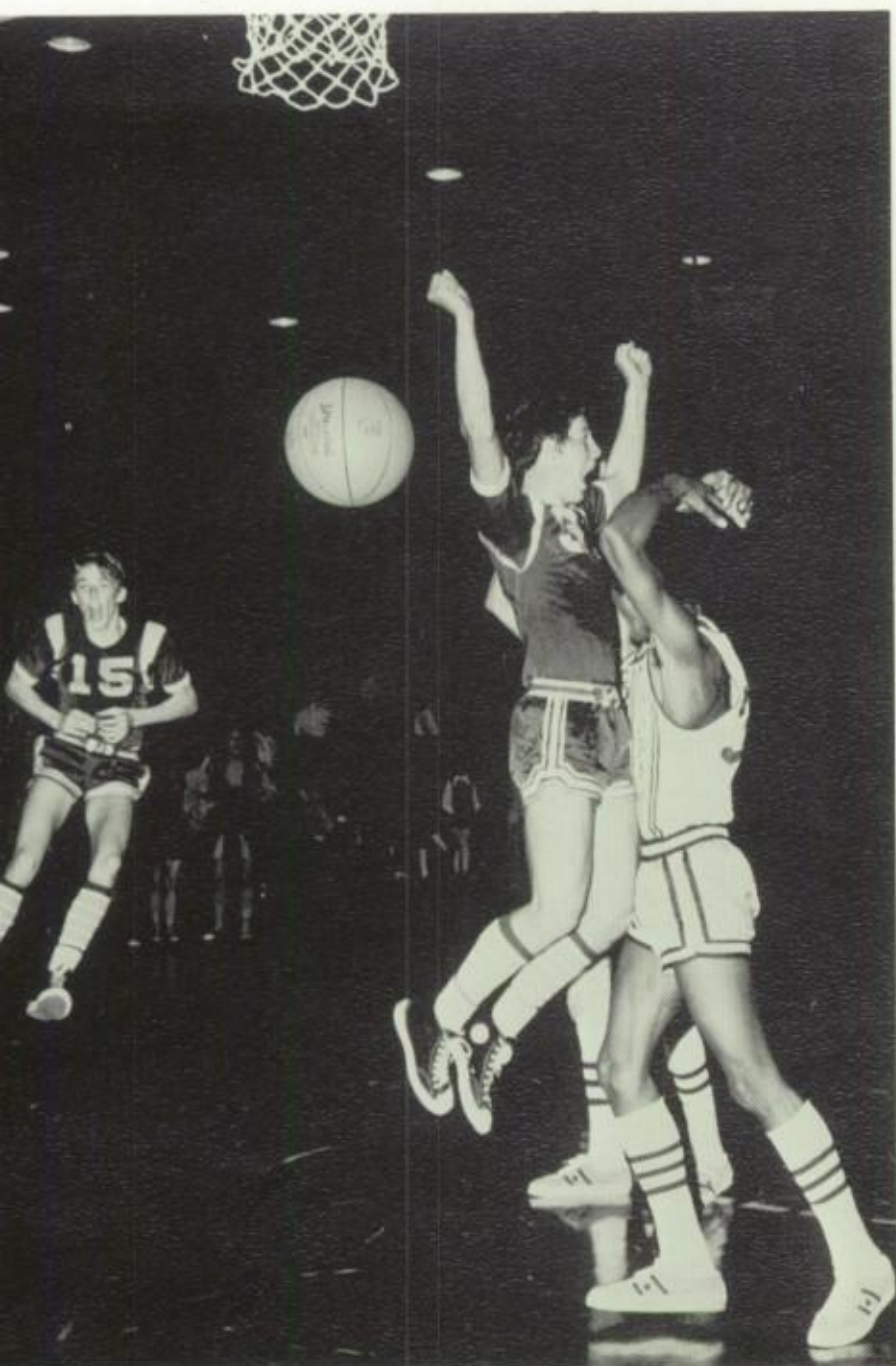

Not to be held down for long, the Panthers came back in their next game to defeat North Side 60-58. Again Paschal's outstanding pair of sophomores John George and Joe Billingsley sparked the win. George brought Paschal back from a nine point halftime deficit with a 14 point third quarter performance, which put the Panther cagers ahead. George finished the night with a 31 point total. Billingsley aided the Panther cause by putting in a field goal and two free throws in the final 40 seconds. This gave Paschal just enough cushion to hold the Steers and to win the game. Mark Wible turned in 13 points and Billingsley scored 10.

Jackets Press Panthers To Defeat, Paschal Sets Pace in Win Over Carter

Tempers flared as Paschal was stung by the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets 75-60. Heights, then undefeated in district play, smothered the Paschal Panthers working with a fierce full court press. Paschal battled closely with its opponent during the first half, and was down by only four points. Heights pulled away in the third quarter to wrap the game up. Heights' press turned the fourth quarter into a layup contest. Either the Jackets would force a turnover or steal and race for a layup, or the Panthers would break through the press and whip the ball inside to their big men. John George and Mark Wible had their usual high scoring games. George bucketed 24 points and Wible had 18.

Coming back in fine style the Paschal Panthers stomped Carter 68-42. The Panthers played almost perfect basketball, and they did not give Carter a break the entire game. From the second quarter on Paschal dominated the game. The Panthers were leading by 14 points at the half and finished the game 26 ahead of faltering Carter. The Purple's "twin towers" Mark Wible and Johnny George were too strong for the Eagles to hold. George, who is Paschal's leading scorer, ripped in 27 points for the night. Wible had his usual high point production scoring 20 points. The victory gave the Panthers a chance to tie for second place in the first half race for the crown in the district with a 3-2 mark.

Panthers Outshoot Cougars, Surpassed by Southwest, Hook the Steers' Horns in Overtime

Paschal came into second half play after a victorious first half finish. Arlington Heights was disqualified, so Paschal's loss to them was counted as a win. This moved the Panthers into a tie for the first half district crown.

Successfully starting second half play, Paschal downed Western Hills 51-44. The Panthers' success was due mainly to their good inside attack. Mark Wible was a major factor in the win. Western Hills carried a two-point lead into the final period of the match, but Wible hit two quick hook shots and the Panthers held on for the victory. Wible, who repeatedly hit the basket with a soft hook shot from the right side, popped in 25 points. Paschal's other post man, John George scored 13 points despite being slowed down with the flu. Wade McMullen added 9 points to Paschal's score.

Falling short of the mark, Paschal was nipped by Southwest 41-35. The Panthers again tried their famous slowdown game, but this time it did not work as well as it had in the past. Southwest used a fierce zone defense which made it difficult to get the ball inside. Paschal tried to force the Rebels out of their zone by holding the ball outside, but Southwest would not take the bait. The Panthers were forced to take the outside shot and had trouble connecting on it until the fourth quarter when their best outside shooter, Joe Billingsley, rammed home eight points. Mark Wible was high scorer with 10 points.

In a come-from-behind victory Paschal defeated North Side in overtime by a score of 69-68. The key for the Panthers was the superb playing of sophomore Joe Billingsley. Billingsley stepped to the foul line with two seconds left in regulation play and dropped home a pair of free throws to tie the game 67-67. He repeated his feat in overtime, and flipped in two more charity buckets. To top off his night he pulled down the final rebound and held it to give Paschal the win. Billingsley had 26 points for the night. John George had 19 points and Mark Wible bucketed 16 shots.

Freeze Fails Against Heights, Panthers Outshoot Eagles, Bow to Scoreboard in Play-off

Paschal put on its famous freeze, but the Arlington Heights zone press thawed it out and won the game 56-44. The stall worked in the first quarter, as Heights didn't score a field goal until there were only 18 seconds left in the quarter. With Mark Wible dominating inside play, Paschal took a 7-3 lead at the first period buzzer. The Yellow Jackets took over in the second period and did not give up the lead for the rest of the match. Donny Smith had one of his best nights of the season hitting consistently from the outside and dropping in 14 points. This game put the Panthers' second half district record at two wins and two losses.

Battling back from a nine point halftime deficit, Paschal downed Carter 59-48. The Panthers could manage only five points in the first quarter and seven points in the second to tally their meager halftime total. Mark Wible and John George sparked the Panthers to a 25 point third quarter. The two big post men had nine and ten points respectively in the third quarter. Mark Wible finished as high man with 22 points for the night. John George bucketed 17 and Joe Billingsley 11 points. The game ended with Paschal scoring 46 of its points in the second half.

The Panthers barely lost in double overtime to Southwest by a low score of 29-27. The game was to determine the winner of the first half district crown. Paschal employed the slowdown game and forced Southwest out of its run and shoot game. The Panthers played for the last shot and got it with two seconds left when sophomore John George flipped in a basket which sent the contest into overtime. George hit a short jumper less than a minute into the first overtime but it was ruled no basket on an offensive foul. Mark Wible was high scorer for the night with 12. Joe Billingsley hit consistently from the outside and scored 7.

"B" Team Foreshadows Future of Talented Panthers

After sprinting to an excellent 9-2 pre-district mark, the Paschal "B" team slackened their pace a bit and dropped 4 of their 5 first half district games. However, the hot-handed junior varsity came back to win three of the five remaining games to construct a 4-6 district record. The Panthers lost to Arlington Heights in the first half by 2 points and by just 1 point in second half play. Leading scorer for the team was sophomore Cliff McCauley. McCauley, a 6'1" post man, accumulated 297 points for an average of over 14 points per game. Guard Kirk Layton also shot well, averaging almost 14 points per game. Larry Lamb at post, and Gary Norwood at guard were also starters. The fifth spot on the team rotated between guards Jerry Simmons and David Wheat. Larry Lamb broke his hand with four games remaining and was replaced by David Washington. Washington scored 16 points in his first start for the "B" team. All these boys will be looking for varsity jobs next season.

Freshman Team Posts Best Cage Record for Paschal

Paschal's "C" basketball team, under Coach Pat Estill, blazed a remarkable 18-5 record for the 1971-72 season. The ninth grade team lost only two pre-district games, both to Poly, and dropped only three district matches, two to Arlington Heights and one to Southwest. The outstanding cager for the little Panthers was John Schlicher. Schlicher, who is nearly six feet tall, led the team in scoring, averaging almost 15 points a game for the season. Post men Jeff Simmons and Mike Roberts did an excellent job on the boards for the Panthers. Dan Runnells was exceptional on defense, and Eddie Meinen displayed excellent speed during the season. Bruce Baird also saw alot of the action since the "C" team used a rotating seven man starting line-up. The ninth graders exhibited a great ability to play basketball. They are fast enough for the running lay-up game, and have enough control to play the stalling game. If they stay as a team they could win district next year.

Girls', Boys' Tennis Teams Net Victorious Seasons

Tennis is one of the few sports in which girls are able to represent Paschal against other schools and they do it beautifully. Mr. Arthur Lotspeich took over the extra duties of the girls' team this year as well as coaching the boys. Both teams practiced daily at the McLeland Tennis Center to prepare for the spring tournaments. The girls accompanied the boys' team to Tyler and combined to place 2nd against some of the best teams in the state. Patty May, Betsy Owens and Ann Casler competed well throughout the year in "A" singles and doubles events. Judy May, only a freshman this year is an excellent prospect for the future.

The Paschal Boys' Tennis Team maintained Paschal's tradition of top netters. Led by Don Murray, who swept district the last two years, the team fared well in such out-of-town events as Wichita Falls and Tyler. As a warm-up for district, the boys' team participated in round-robin tournaments with the district schools and Paschal aced all five teams. With the exception of Murray, the team is young, consisting of freshmen and sophomores. The doubles teams of K. C. Miller and David Cody, and Ronny Boston and Jud Menefee are strong competitors with still two years ahead of them. Tut Bartzen, Dan Valentincic, and David Kelly were ineligible to play this year but will be on hand next year.

Swimmers Win City, State Honors in Successful Season

Paschal's swimming teams splashed to exciting and successful seasons for 1972 under the direction of Coach Bill Allen. The boys' swimming team won many honors throughout their season and placed third in the city. Winners in the city meet were Bobby Brous, diving; and Dick Standerfer, 100-yard butterfly and 100-yard freestyle. Second places were won by John McColm, 100-yard breaststroke; Eric Davidson, 100-yard freestyle; and the 200-yard medley relay team (Mark Jones, Kelly McColm, Eric Davidson and Dick Standerfer). Bobby Brous and Dick Standerfer both won seconds in the regional meet and qualified for state. At the state meet, Brous took fifth in the one meter diving competition and Standerfer came in seventh in the 100-yard freestyle.

After winning all the dual meets with other area high schools, Paschal's girls' swimming team went on to the city meets and again won the title of city champions. Winners in the meet were Debbie Nunnallee, 300-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly; Elaina Gutkowski, 50 and 100-yard freestyle; the 400-yard freestyle relay (Dixie Nunnallee, Mary Haas, Donna Bell and Claire Croston); and the 200-yard medley relay (Dixie and Debbie Nunnallee, Elaina Gutkowski and Jayne Phillips). These last four girls qualified for the state meet where their 200-yard medley relay team placed fourth. Other state honors went to Debbie Nunnallee, third in the 100-yard butterfly; and Elaina Gutkowski, fourth in the 50-yard freestyle and fifth in the 100-yard freestyle.

Girls' P. E. Aims at Physical Fitness, Enjoyment of Sports

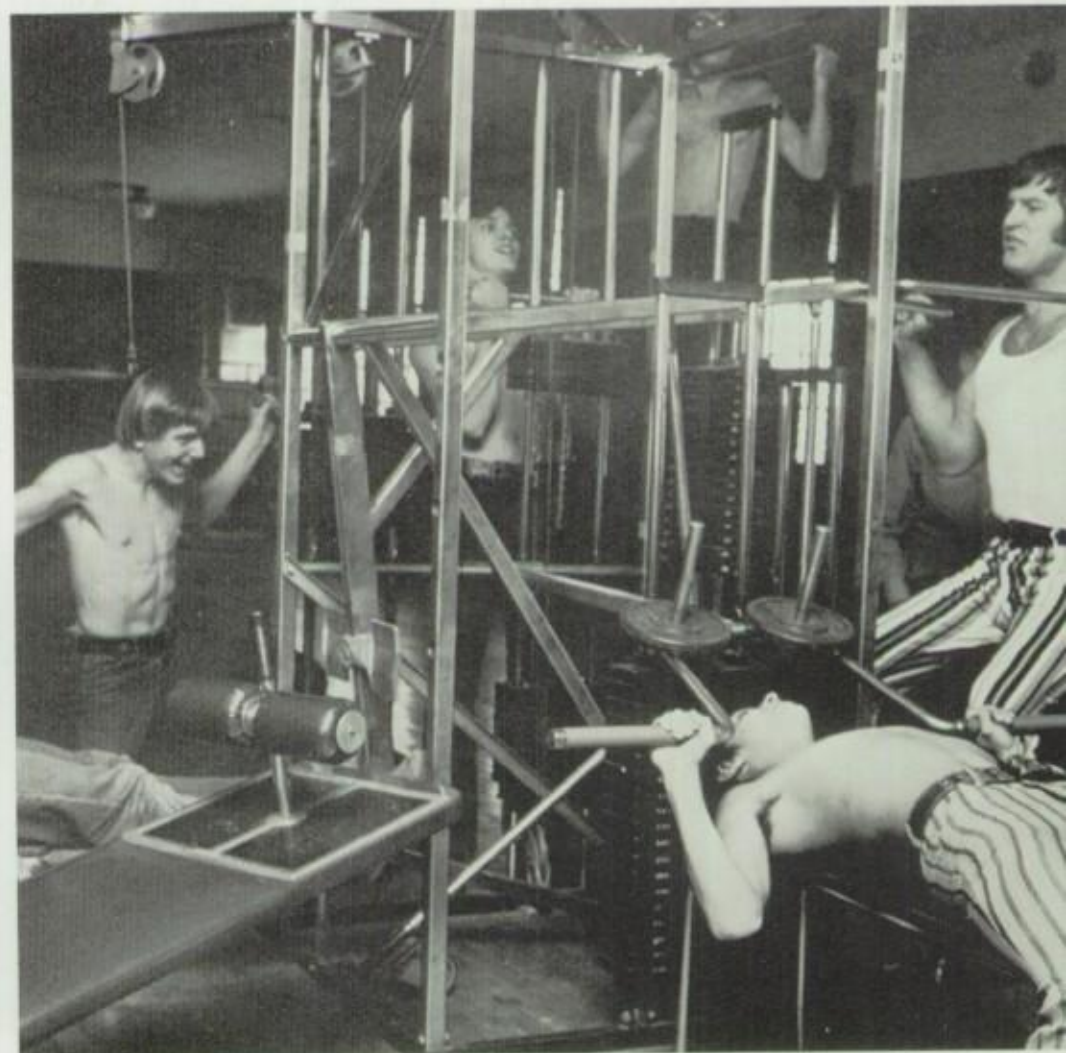

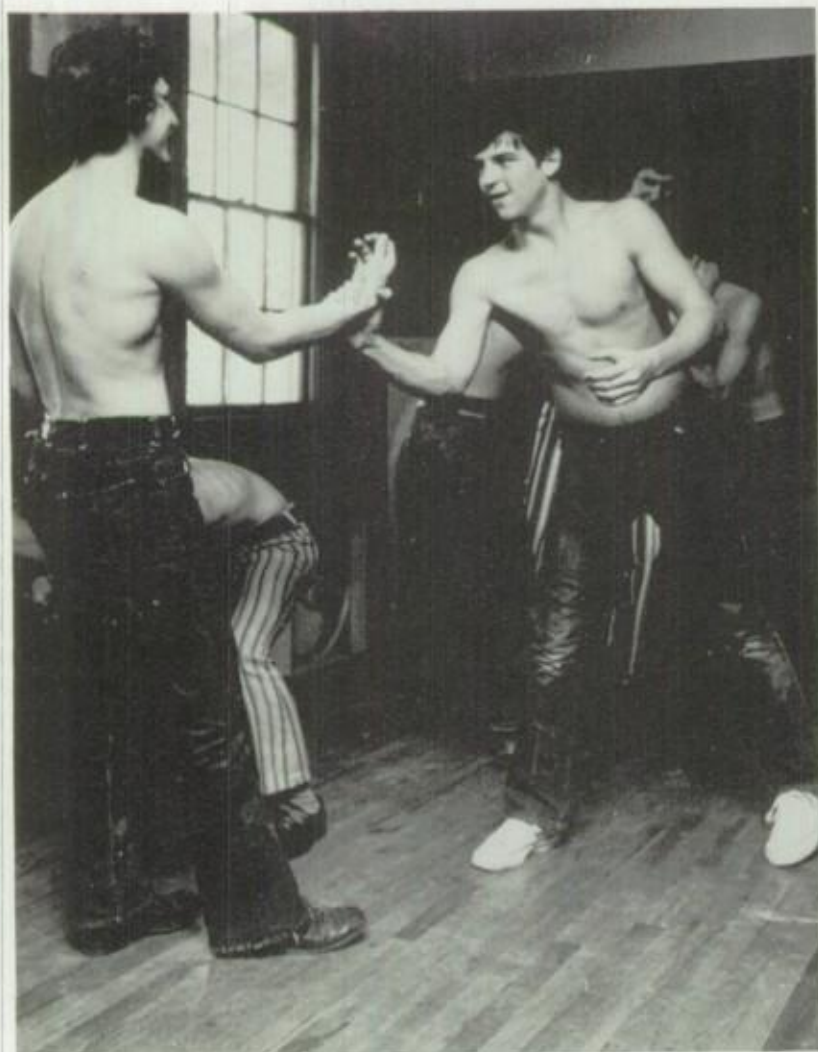

Girls' P.E. offers a variety of activities to help the girls at Paschal keep physically fit. There are three types of classes: rhythm, tennis, and regular P.E. The rhythm class, which is offered sixth period, teaches girls choreography and modern dancing. The seventh period tennis class helps develop girls for varsity tennis. The P.E. classes enable girls to participate in many sports and activities. In the fall the girls mostly participate in volleyball, gymnastics, and exercising. Speed away and speed ball are played during the winter months. At the first signs of spring the girls participate in paddle tennis, kick ball, softball, tennis, and archery. This is the first time in five years that the P.E. department has offered archery. One of the reasons the Paschal P.E. program has proved so successful is because of the excellent teachers: Miss Judy Roberson, Mrs. Jerry Moore, Mrs. Joy Hill, and Mrs. Shirley Abram. Miss Roberson has the extra duties of the rhythm class and Mrs. Moore is in charge of the tennis class.

Intramural Sports Supplement Paschal Athletics

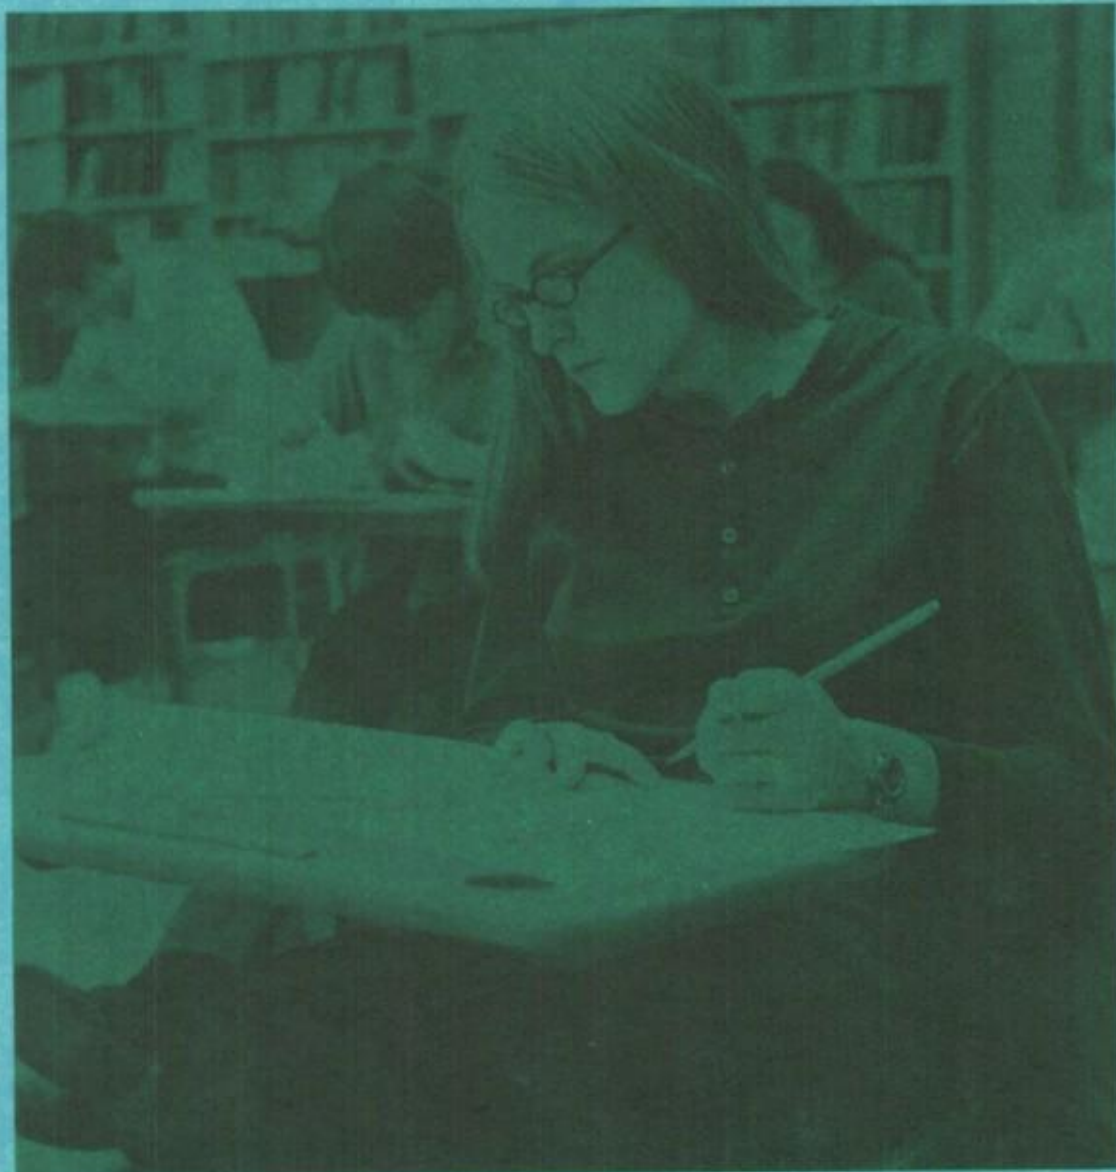

Students who are interested in athletics but do not participate in the varsity programs are offered a variety of activities in the intramural program sponsored by Mr. John Liptak. The sports included in the program are flag football, wrestling, track, weightlifting and bowling. In addition to competing with other Paschal students, the participants in the intramural program have the opportunity to compete against other schools. Intramural sports, particularly bowling which has over forty members, continue their popularity with many students although the general decline of interest in athletics has cut the number of participants.

As our lives overlap through a daily routine
We become more than a mass of empty faces.
Emotions are joined as we emerge into one,
And in a world of such vastness,
... STRANGERS FIND FRIENDS.

Very Important Panthers

Paschal is fortunate to be composed of many different types of people with a vast span of interests and activities. Many of these students are not content merely to entertain a passing fancy in areas which capture their interest. Instead, they practice patiently and diligently to increase their particular talents and abilities. Each year, as a result of the perseverance, Paschal has a large percentage of "winners" in various competitive events, ranging from beauty pageants to academic achievement tests to athletic events. Also upholding the high standards which have become linked to Paschal's name are those students who, through community service and activities, bring favorable attention to Paschal. All of these students have proved the versatility of Paschal with their achievements. To assure these students, who are so often overlooked in the daily bustle of life at Paschal, the acclaim they deserve, the PANTHER Staff is proud to give them proper acknowledgment by bestowing upon them the title of Very Important Panthers. The honorees have certainly brought glory to Paschal's name, not only in the halls of P.H.S., but throughout the city, the state and even the nation. We salute these Paschalites as Very Important Panthers.

V. I. P.'s Spread Claims to Fame Throughout Halls of Paschal

Upper left: Sophomore Becky Martinez was chosen Fort Worth's Fiesta Queen for 1971. The contest, a part of the local Mexican Independence Day celebration, was judged on the basis of beauty, poise and charm. Becky was selected from twenty-four girls. Right: Joanne Summerhays, senior, was recognized as one of the nation's outstanding high school English students in competition sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Lower right: Fifteen of Paschal's seniors were honored as National Merit Scholarship Semifinalists. Pictured here are: Dale Napier, Joel Ferguson, Rick Hutcheson, Rob Garrett, David Stephan and Paige Oliver.

V. I. P.'s Maintain Standards of P. H. S. With Varied Talents

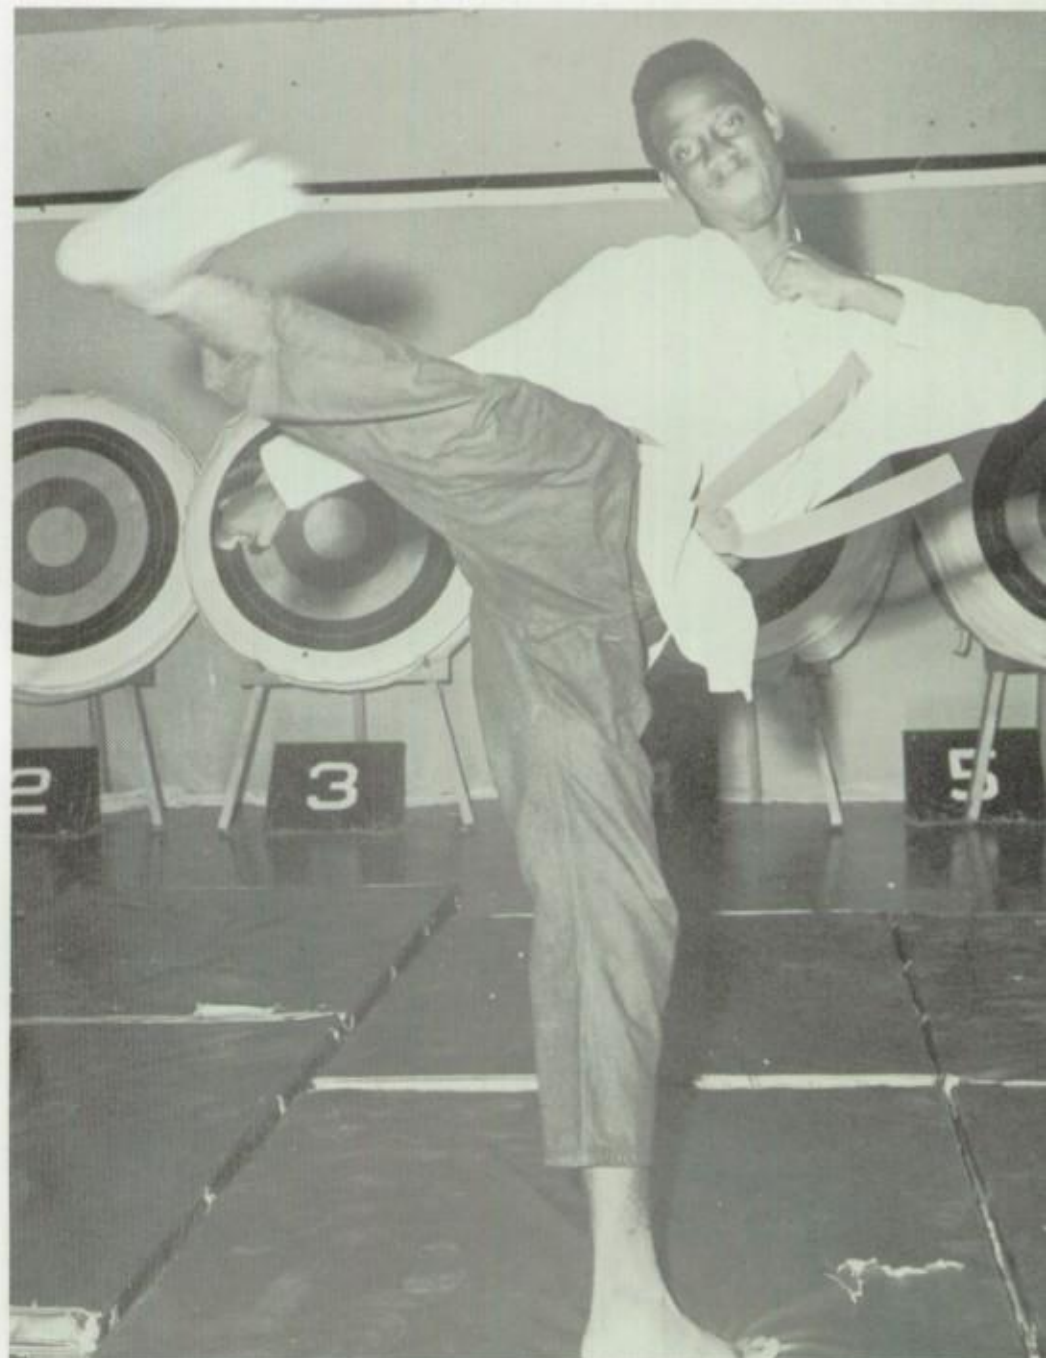

Upper left: Senior David Stephan was one of fifty Explorer Scouts chosen to attend a Space Seminar held at NASA last summer. The lectures and seminars were sponsored by NASA, the Boy Scouts and Pepsi Cola. Upper right: Paschal's foreign exchange students for this school-year are Anders Orneberg from Sweden, Graciela Fabio from Argentina and Edith Abel from Germany. Not pictured is Ana Pugliese from Brazil. Lower left: The balance of Paschal's National Merit Scholarship Finalists include Wendy Brachman, Diane Bertram, Marc Weston, Diane Austin, Tom Harter, Susan Gochenour, David Hildebrand, Duffy Thomas and Jimmy Wolf (not shown in picture).

Very Important Panthers Work Patiently to Achieve Goals

Upper right: Penny Smith, James Pennebaker, Jill Johnson and Joni Walker were chosen from 3,000 participants throughout Texas to seats in the All-State Orchestra. Lower right: Paschal senior Keith Sharp, winner of an international karate tournament in Canada, will tour Japan this summer as a member of the U.S. Karate Team. Above: Vicki Steele, a P.H.S. senior, was chosen as a Mardi Gras princess to represent Paschal in the Mardi Gras festivities held each year at Nolan High.

Class of '72 Discovers Key to Friendship is Cooperation

Upper left: With the realization of graduation just around the corner, assistants in the counseling offices Helen Derden and Vicki Steele keep informed on visits by college representatives as they post information so other interested seniors may also make future plans. Lower left: Dressed in his "jitterbug" costume, Darrel Johnston observes as Era Huey applies the finishing touches to Rickey Jackson's new image as Geraldine in the 1972 Paschal Sports Follies. Right: Despite the abolition of many Paschal traditions, spirit has always been at a level best. Enjoying their ride to the P.H.S. Sherman football game, Tony Carden, Nancy Freelin, Tom Heartwell, Diane Brown, Roy Hunnicutt, Debbie Brooks and Betsy Drew rise up with a grin and a cheer.

Mr. Paschal
John Newport

Miss Paschal
Amy Brown

Once having met Amy Brown, you can be certain that you have made an instant friend. Amy's exuberance and cheerful outlook on life are only two of her many outstanding qualities. Her sunshiny disposition and lively sense of humor have delighted both students and teachers alike and have enabled her to make new friends easily. Not only a favorite with her fellow seniors, Amy has gained the friendship of many underclassmen through her amazing talent to make anyone who knows her actually feel a part of Paschal. Amy's popularity among her peers is evidenced by the fact that she is always surrounded by a large circle of lighthearted Paschalites.

In her three years at Paschal, Amy has served her school in a number of capacities. She has been a representative on the Student Council and is always involved in student activities. As a junior she was recognized by her fellow class members as Junior Class Favorite. Amy's interest in music is characterized by her love of singing, and those who have heard her sing agree that she does so very well. In this, her final year as a Panther, Amy's outgoing personality has been put to full use as a dynamic Paschal cheerleader. As an enthusiastic supporter of all of Paschal's functions, Amy Brown has proved that she is indeed a product of her environment, for she has been selected as Miss Paschal of 1972.

Student Body Recognizes Couple For Paschal's Highest Honor

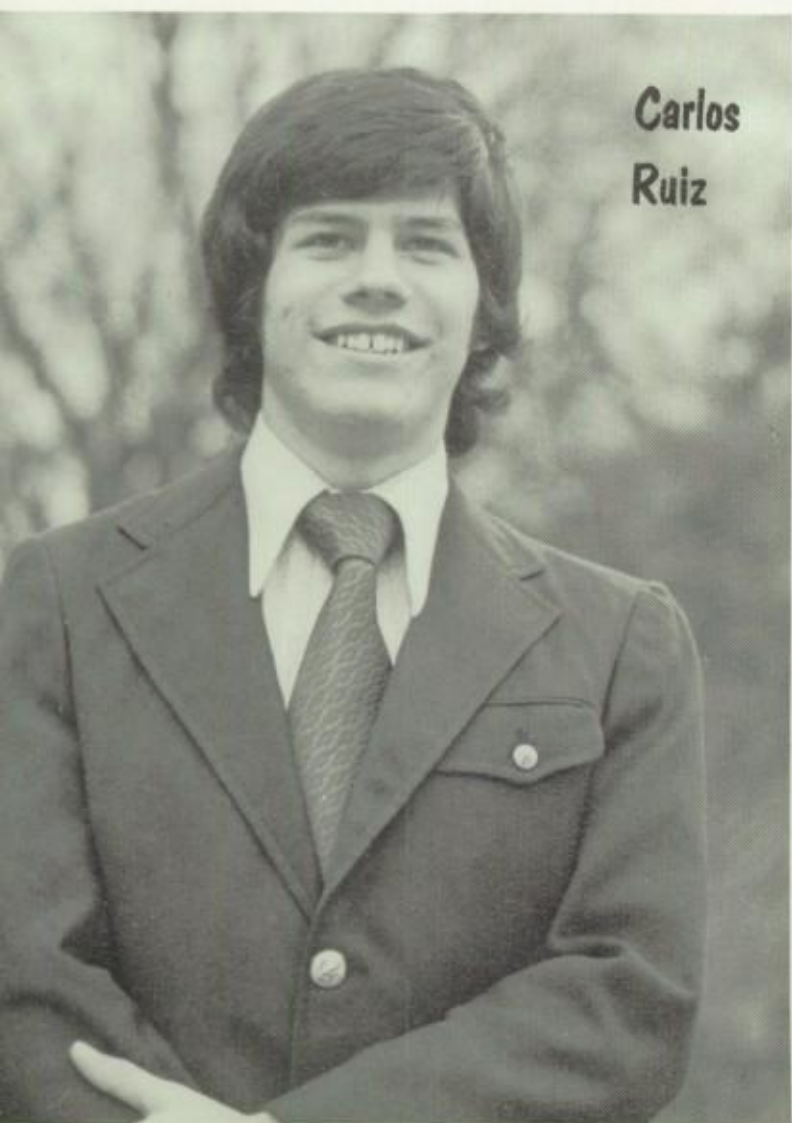

Always flashing a familiar smile to friends as he passes them in the halls, John Newport shows a genuine concern for them and for Paschal, where he may be found participating in virtually every phase of student life. John's academic performance has definitely been an asset to his school, as shown by his excellent grades and his recognition as a National Merit Scholarship Commended Student. His warm personality and sharp wit encompass those around him and make life's unpleasant things a little easier to bear. Despite his busy schedule, John is eager to lend a helping hand, thus earning the admiration of both his fellow students and his teachers.

John's pride of Paschal is exemplified by the leadership he has shown in that capacity. He has served three years on Student Council and two on Leadership Committee. As a senior member of the Student Council, he was elected president, to preside over that organization, as well as over the Leadership Committee. Among his other positions and honors, John was also a member of the fighting Panther Varsity Football Team, Junior Favorite Finalist and Royal Purple honoree in his junior year and host of the '72 Sports Follies. Because of his outstanding service to Paschal, his fellow students chose him to be the recipient of the highest of all honors.

Finalists Contribute to P. H. S. Through Active Participation

Carlos
Ruiz

Carolyn Robertson

Rhonda
Phillips

David Bradfield

Participation in Paschal's activities and an effort to maintain its high standards are of prime importance in the selection of Mr. and Miss Paschal Finalists. Keeping this in mind, the student body of Paschal has selected Carolyn Robertson, Carlos Ruiz, Rhonda Phillips and David Bradfield for this all-important honor. The qualifications for this position are demanding ones. These students have exhibited a competence in the areas of scholarship, citizenship, participation in school activities and cooperation with their fellow students. All of the finalists have contributed a part of themselves to Paschal through their numerous and varied interests. As part of the graduating class, Carolyn and Carlos supported P.H.S. as cheerleaders, Rhonda, as a member of Panthers-Spirit of Paschal and David, as a participant in student government. Because of their spirited and enthusiastic support of Paschal and its many school functions, these four upperclass members have been appropriately honored as the Finalists for Mr. and Miss Paschal for the year 1972.

Seniors Choose Rhona Phillip John Newport As '72 Favorite

John Newport is obviously one of Paschal's best examples of an all-around favorite, as evidenced by his leadership in the classroom, in student government and in sports. As Leadership Committee President, John is in a position which demands good relationships with teachers and other students. His determination to succeed in academics and athletics has made him popular among all Paschalites who admire his perseverance. John Newport's friendliness is a primary reason he has been honored by being chosen Senior Class Favorite, 1972.

With the aid of her ever-present smile, Rhonda Phillip brighten up even the gloomiest of days. As a PSOP member she never hesitates to offer her enthusiastic support to Paschal's functions. Many a P.H.S. student has been welcomed by Rhonda's bubbling exuberance for life. Her warm personality and friendliness produce a certain magnetism which is equalled by very few Paschalites. The Class of '72 has expressed their admiration of this vibrant senior in their selection of Rhonda Phillip as Senior Class Favorite, 1972.

ways mindful of the importance of each decision in their year at Paschal, the '72 Seniors have selected Nicki Anga, John Dillon, Jan Wurtz and John Herrick as their al representatives, not only in memories of their days at al, but also in future endeavors in the days following uation. These students, as typical members of their class in al year at Paschal, are always ready with a smile and a dly greeting for everyone they meet. They share the al qualities of a keen participation in the promotion of ol spirit, a devotion to P.H.S. and an awareness of the le around them. As a token of their admiration for these seniors, their fellow classmates have chosen them as Sen-lass Favorite Finalists of 1972.

Anthony Stewart and Patty May Are Favorites of Junior

In his three years at Paschal, Anthony Stewart has long been noticed as a leader and friend; now his classmates have chosen to give him the honor and title of Junior Class Favorite. He is active in school life at P.H.S. and is a member of the football and track teams. Anthony's quick wit makes him a lively and interesting person to talk with. With such personality he will go on to play a major role in '73.

Patty May has been a two time favorite this year, first she won the honor of Sports Follies Queen and following that she claimed Junior Class Favorite. Patty has a way about her that is delightfully her own, her cheerfulness and friendliness has accompanied her through her varied activities including tennis and PAWS. Patty also enjoys hobbies of competition such as swimming, diving, and she has earned over a hundred trophies for horsemanship. Patty is the Favorite.

aschal Honors Four Finalists rom Class of '73

To be nominated for favorite is to win; these four juniors are definitely winners. Marla Lande, Tootie Holt, Steve Davis and Randy Honeycutt display unique friendliness and cooperation which make them admired by classmates. Steve and Randy participate in the athletic program at P.H.S., while Tootie and Marla take an active interest in supporting their school at various functions. They radiate warmth and willingness to help and fill the positions of Favorite Finalists for 1972.

Sophomores Meet New Friends; New Challenges

Favorites Reflect Sophomore Cheerful Outlook

In the truest sense, sophomore Dean Phillips is a favorite not only to those of his own class, but to all who come to know him. A sports enthusiast, Dean devotes a great deal of his time playing baseball for Paschal. He makes a great addition to any team because of his ability to cooperate as a dedicated player. An outgoing, friendly and genuine person, Dean is a definite favorite for the class of '74.

Respected and admired by her peers, Kathryn Johnston has long been a favorite with her class. Known for her good humor and radiating warmth, Kathryn can always be found with a smile. Having quickly adjusted to P.H.S. in her freshman year, she fills her sophomore year with an abundance of old and new friends. Eager to assist, bright and charming, Kathryn is certainly the favorite of '72.

Amiable and spirited easily describes sophomore class favorite finalists, David Orr, Becky Martinez, Pat Duran and Debbie Nunnallee. Whether actively involved in sports, student government, or any other aspect of Paschal life, each of the four finalists represent the cheerful outlook of the sophomore class. Their many desirable qualities truly make them representatives for the class of 1974.

Young Panthers Select Judy May and Mike Oxford for Favorite

Think of a mischievous grin and a vibrant personality to go along with it, and you will be thinking of Mike Oxford. He is recognized as a potential leader in various aspects of life at Paschal. His genuine concern for others has won him many friends. He has met the challenge of his first year as a Panther. Mike Oxford stands out as Freshman Favorite 1972.

Enthusiasm is the key word one uses to describe Judy May. Her spirit in the area of cooperation is not to be overlooked. She is a member of PAWS and one of her extracurricular activities is horseback riding. Her warmth and inner beauty are seen in her ever-present smile. She has risen above the usual obstacles of the Freshman year to become a future leader in her class. This is Judy May, Freshman Favorite 1972.

Freshmen Favorite Finalists Show Class of '75 Spirit

In the same way that the sun radiates its rays from behind a mass of clouds, these four Paschalites exhibit their own personalities in the midst of many. During this, their Freshman year, Roland Martinez, Laura Moore, Danny Deaver, and Charlotte Berger have shined in areas of friendship, leadership, and in a determination to understand the world around them. They are the Favorite Finalists for the year 1972.

In Memoriam

Nancy Kaye Lewis

1955-1972

In dedication to God's new angel Nancy:

God rest you Nancy in a blanket of grace,
With a veil of beauty and love on thy face,
Think not of problem or pain, just of rest,
And dream of carnations, the ones you loved best.

Remember, Nancy, the fun we all had
When you laughed and giggled at those jokes that were bad,
Hey, Nancy, I'm sorry I cried at your death,
I know you would hate me for not wearing a smile;
So I'll try to do better, at least for a while.

And don't worry Nancy, you'll always live on;
In hearts and in minds, from dark until dawn;
I'm sure you are happy now; more than before,
Now dream on Nancy, dream on evermore.

God Rest you, Nancy.

Nancy Lewis*

People are the common denominator of progress.
So . . . no improvement is possible with unimproved people, and advance is certain when people are liberated and educated.

John Kenneth Galbraith

So—

where do we go from here? i don't know,
but it's there somewhere.
hope you have an easier time finding it than i am.

Keep your head together,

Janice Rubin. . . .

Rene,

It has been great
having A.C.T. with you.
I just met you this year but I consider you a good friend.

Love,

Becky Savary

Go a girl in my homeroom class. It's been real fun this year knowing you. Hope you has a blast this summer. Good luck in the future in all you do.

Bye for now,

Love,
John Foster

To a frog with a big mouth. Oh
a terrible shame
I'm in two of your classes
but they couldn't help it. I love
your dog.

Good luck
Monette

Rene, these 2 yrs. most you've been the most different years of my life with you heard
 I have never heard so much fun to do my whole life
 it's a great life
 I know good & love ya!

Well Renee,
 the crackle toes here
 with a direct report from a shorthand. Hi!
 if you know Renee
 I don't ever think
 I could forget (or even try to) those little notes you wrote me
 during shorthand. You and Frank, ha, a great pair. No really, I think you're really a great friend! Be good!
 Debbie

Rene,
 i've really had a great time
 knowing you and making fun of carolyn littleton. Mr. Brassil has his head up his --- but i think we'll both survive.
 Love
 Mary Martha

Rene - HOW RUDE!

I can't believe you made through a whole year of Coach Hall.
 It sure was a lot of fun
 though. Be seeing ya

I love you
I love you
I love you
I love you

Review

Be good this summer.

O.K.

love nancy & lulu

Dear Renee
Thanks for being one of the nicest girls I've known this year. Stay out of everything this summer

Renz.

What could I possibly say to you? not too very much. Try to keep changing

John H. Wahl

Renee, have you have to added life to what could've
 been a dull class. or you are a fair - pret chick.
 Good Luck.

Renee,
 It's been great knowing you. Hope we can get to know
 each other better.
 It's been fun calling
 you "nose" Ha!
 Yours,
 Carlene
 De Luca

Renee
 We know you
 one year longer.
 That makes 9. I hope we're always good friends + I'll never forget McKay's class. My, I say try to be good.
 Love ya,
 Barbie

Freak —
 You're really great and I'll see you next year.

Don't get in trouble

Let us not be blind to our differences - but let us also direct attention to our common interests and the means by which those differences can be resolved. And if we cannot end now our differences, at least we can help make the world safe for diversities.

here,

Wow a ca source, all I could say could fill a book.
Grist off we've been friends for almost 4 fuckin years. Even if you get mad at me you can, but I'll always be there if you want to be sisters again. I no you'll never be an enemy. Now that I told you what I wanted to say. You shit ass listen to the rest.

Remember:....

Going to Lubbock, locking me out of the hotel and making me climb in the window;

Beating the onion rings to death,

Throwing the salt and pepper around,

" " bricks on top of the alamo.

Throwing candy in the pool, going to the gas station

Remember Houston....

Need I say more about Houston? How can you forget. FARK, Clyde.

Pumpkin man, expert man, the train ride, the horny mexicans.

Remember... all the ripped stuff and always remember you a part of our family (Shadow) (Carla, Buffy)

I just hope we stay friends throughout the years cause don't forget you coming to N.J. with us next summer. When Chuck comes we'll have fun. I'll continue later so no one write

Here. I'm back. Remember Denton (Gibson)

and How Rude, crude and literally

ON COUTH, pat Boone, and Beeda da now that your 1/2 Italian. If you need a place to stay when your parents are gone you can stay with us. I love Buttons too as I love NO. (PAGE 294 (continued))

Renee, absolutely a person I really like (first I will say all the mush-
 good luck to a sweet nice girl. You really are!)
 Remember the times in Mrs. Dorber's 10th grade English class. about cheating in
 + the sluts. And remember the good times that we have had in A.C.T. - like reminding Mrs.
 Dorber about the cheating in Biology and the sluts. Well good luck + have fun and I hope that I get to see you next year.

Renee -

Homeroom was one of my favorite times of the day. I'm really glad that the year is over though.
 You really have a good heart and don't change it. Hope to see you next year.

- Miles Galt

Best Wishes,

To a sweet
 girl who raises hell (trouble) with Coach.

Renee - "been to any good parties" I ~~have~~ haven't seen you lately but I let you have. Wait till next year then we'll get it on

See you then
